This watering trough is the quaintest thing!

"Twas carved with an axe or hatchet

From the heart of the noblest hewer—

I doubt if the world can match it.

The tooth of time, or the axe, has made

When I bent to my work, the noblest hewer—

Where many a barbed fork has drunk

And many a Jackey Hornet.

The dear old tale is a twisted thing.

But it holds the sweetest water.

That ever was drunk by beast or bird

Or quaffed by son or daughter.

When I bent to my work, the noblest hewer—

I searched until I found it.

A noblest hewer, for the grasses' arms

Were lovingly clasped around it.

A face looked up from the mimic sea—

Alas, 'twas not the old one!

But it holds the sweetest water.

That ever was drunk by beast or bird

Or quaffed by son or daughter.

When I bent to my work, the noblest hewer—

I searched until I found it.

A noblest hewer, for the grasses' arms

beyond the ford month to where a glimpse of the ocean glimmered grayly through the fast clearing haze. The helmsman called that all was ready.

Thorolf turned and took Thordinda in his arms. Gudmund still gazed seaward, and none saw that just when the lovers' lips met his right hand tightened about the ax till until his fingers grew white and bloodless with a wildness gleamed from his helmet shaded eyes. Yet when Thorolf put aside the maiden's arms and leaped with a rattle of oars to the beach Gudmund turned to her a quiet face, met her smile a moment, looked down and silently followed his brother. As the chief stepped to the stern the rowers backed water with a swirl of foam and a shout. Then the helmsman threw his weight against the steering oar, the bow swung round, the carved dragon head at the bows seemed to stretch its neck seaward, snuffing for the broad sweep of the ocean, and to the measured roll and chant of an oar song the ship glided down the ford.

Yet as she nodded lightly to the harbor-master, Gudmund staggered where he stood and pressed his hands to his face. Then he went forward, ran out an oar and swung steadily with the beat of the rowers. Thorolf stood thoughtful, gazing above the shimmer of the wake to the blue horizon beyond the hills, and something of triumph, all of a sudden, was in his look, for her kiss still lay hot between his lips.

Presently he turned and looked forward. His brother's mail coat gleamed among the blue junks of the seamen. Yet his face he did not see, for Gudmund's dark hair was blown about his cheeks and forehead as he swung to and fro. Thorolf watched the swing of his brother's oar blade as it lashed through the water.

"Ah, Gudmund," said he, "you par lightly, and your heart goes out before you to new lands. For me, I feel as though my heart were left behind with Thorolf, yet my bosom is no lighter for his loss."

"Ay," said the helmsman as he watched the white water swirl after, "he pulls a stronger oar than many, and it is but a little while that we thought him a strapping youth and a light hearted fellow, but now he is a man when age and sorrow drive under torn canvas."

Thorolf sighed and turned again to look at the green hills, the white figure and the dark hair beyond the sea. Some of the rowers heard through the cumber of their oars the sob that burst his way between Gudmund's lips.

To those watching from shore the ship was lessening fast, and the carmen's song faded into the lapping of water along the beach. Now she had passed the headland, and they saw her rise and fall with the long wave of the open sea. Now the wet oars flashed in the sun, and the rowers' heads bowed and running forward, lost the great square sail that belled from the yard. Twice the canvas flapped, then, sheathed home, it stood taut and full, while the good ship, heeling beneath it, plowed steadily on.

A note in the farther corner. Where many a barbed fork has drunk and many a Jackey Hornet.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1896.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The Republicans of this State held a convention at Boston last Friday to elect four Delegates at Large to the Republican National Convention to be held at St. Louis in June. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Representative Eben S. Draper, Curtis Guild, Jr., and W. Murray Crane were chosen.

The platform, of which Senator Lodge was the author, was plain, sound and strong on the tariff and financial questions. There was no dodging or stalling.

Judge Edward F. Johnson of this city was a member of the Committee on Permanent Organization, and John M. Portal, Esq., formerly Chairman of the Woburn Ward City Committee was Vice-President for the Fifth District.

FOR WATER COMMISSIONER.

At their meeting last week the Common Council elected Mr. Elwyn G. Preston a member of the Water Board in place of Mr. Thomas F. Kelley whose term has expired.

Mr. Preston has filled the office of City Auditor with credit, is now Secretary of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and is in every way amply qualified for the discharge of the duties of Water Commissioner.

It is reported that his election by the Aldermen is highly probable.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The Republicans of the Fifth Congressional District will assemble by delegates at Jackson Hall in Lowell at 11 o'clock on Friday forenoon April 10, to elect delegates to attend the National convention at St. Louis in June.

On Mar. 28 the Boston Standard completed the first year of its existence and celebrated the event by issuing an extra large and handsome number that day. We have no reason to dispute its claim to a paying patronage and substantial success. It has some of the brightest writers on its Editorial Staff, and its facilities for gathering and giving out news are inferior to none of the metropolitan journals. Furthermore, it is said the Standard has a solid financial backing, therefore, although erratic and sometimes worse than that, it is probably a Boston newspaper fixture.

Justice Johnson's words, "It seems to have been a clear case of laissez faire—let it slide—on the part of everyone whose duty it was to take measures to guard against danger," are of wide and general application. No pent-up Woburn monopolizes negligence.—Boston Globe.

And yet, Woburn has more of it than is good for her.

The Lewis left Horn Pond several days ago.

Mr. W. T. Carwell has moved to Medford, Mass.

A powerful rain kept many people from church last Sunday, probably.

Miss Reeves advertises for good sewers in the paper. Read it.

Mr. Phil Brown is at home from college for a vacation. He is looking well.

Take particular notice of the "Easter Opening" of Hammond & Son, Principal Clothiers.

March came in like a lion, but its exit last Tuesday was lamblike enough to suit anybody.

Electric light poles on Main street must go. They cannot be removed a minute too soon.

Mr. A. Grant has an entire change of card this week. It is worth reading. Grant is the same old standby.

Miss Jameson, Instructor of Music in our public schools, has or is about to return to her post of duty here.

The Charter Amendment committee made another attempt the other evening to find out where they are.

Don't fail to make Hammond & Son a call on Saturday, and see their new Spring goods and get an Easter card.

Dr. Peck and family moved into their new home on Pleasant street opposite the Public Library, a few days ago.

We are informed that Belle Menard is meeting with marked success in her instruction of Music in the Lawrence school.

Mr. Robert B. Eaton reports everything comfortable and prosperous at Central Square and an early spring anticipated.

When Main street is well paved from Salem street to Everett street then we can see for ourselves just how the thing works.

Palm were plentiful last Sunday. We are not quite sure that we like them for Palm Sunday uses so well as the old fashioned greens.

The Easter window decorations of Hammond & Son are the product Mr. Lowell's skill. They are shown as the finest ever made at that price.

Rev. Dr. Scudder preached an excellent sermon last Sunday on a practical subject aptly named "Borrowing Trouble," although that was not its title.

The boiler explosion at Loring's tannery by which several men lost their lives occurred one year ago last Wednesday. It was a sad day for many people.

Your reading this item will save you money, especially if you wear shirts and will come in and look over our immense line of new spring styles. Richardson's, 431 Main st.

The Knights of Columbus presented Mr. Thomas H. Mulhearn, Past Grand Knight, with a diamond studded gold chain last Sunday in appreciation of his work for the Order.

Capt. Ernest D. Pratt of Roxbury, and Lieut. Edward W. Clark of Waltham have been assigned to the Woburn Camp of the Salvation Army, and began work here a week ago.

Some time in May the Woburn Musical Society will give the grandest concert ever enjoyed by a Woburn audience. A large share of the Boston Symphony Orchestra will participate.

Thomas Roache committed suicide at his home on Wright street last Sunday morning by cutting his throat with a razor. Being out of work preyed on his mind and led to the fatal act.

Willard Smith is making a big drive on Wall Paper and selling dead loads of it. Nowhere can a better stock of paper, greater variety of patterns, or lower prices, be found than at Smith's.

Mrs. Charles E. McGowan, widow of the late Charles E. McGowan, has just received a check for $1000 from the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, as insurance on her husband's life.

The District Convention of the Mass. S. S. Association, Middlesex County, was held at the N. E. Church in this city yesterday. There were a number of well known speakers from abroad.

To correct an erroneous impression made by his card in last week's Journal, Dr. H. R. Chase, the dentist, publishes another in this issue which talks for itself. Particular attention is asked for it.

Miss Elizabeth Powers delivered an address before the Charitable Society of Woburn last Monday evening. This association are doing a great deal of good here.

Don't stay at home Easter because you can't afford a new suit. A new hat, shirt, and vest can be had at our store, and a trifling sum would make an old suit appear eminently respectable. Richardson's, 431 Main st.

Again we call attention to the advertisement of Putnam's, which shows an establishment and especially to the low prices at which his goods are offered to the public. It is a perfectly reliable shoe house and manufactory.

The Board of Health have issued notices of date April 1, 1896, to householders, etc., giving them 30 days in which to make connections with the sewer mains. The time seems rather short and there is some scrambling over it.

W. H. Sawyer & Co., millinery, will hold a spring opening on April 14 and 15, as will be seen by their card. They have a superb stock of hats, bonnets, flowers, and feathers, etc., in which we hear, they are doing a frigate business.

Mr. Hoag, Principal of the Cummings school, was considerably cut and bruised by a fall while alighting from the 11:45 train last Friday night. The fall was the result of a miscalculation as to the number of steps. His injuries were not serious.

Mr. Willard S. McKay, the crack poloist of this city, was given a rousing benefit last evening. He is not in the enjoyment of the best of health, but his friends were glad of the opportunity to come forward and give him a financial boost.

The Equal Suffrage League, will hold its regular monthly meeting, Saturday, April 3, at 3 p. m. in Concord Hall. Rev. Mary T. Whitney of Boston will speak on the subject of "Family Culture." All interested are cordially invited to attend.

Arrangements for the forthcoming High School graduation exercises, April 5th, Dist. Grand Master C. L. Fitzhugh, Grand Master W. E. Barrows, Grand Master Wm. Leavens, Grand Sec. C. S. Taylor, G. P. Sec. E. A. Tucker, and Treas. W. P. Hanson, G. I. Guard, G. B. F. Maxwell, all of Medford, will attend.

A supper was given by the Fraternal Helpers at Mechanics Hall last Friday evening at a stage where the announcement that George R. Russell will deliver the Salutatory, and Miss Allison will be the Valedictory, is betraying no confidence.

A supper was given by the Fraternal Helpers at Mechanics Hall last Friday evening at a stage where the announcement that George R. Russell will deliver the Salutatory, and Miss Allison will be the Valedictory, is betraying no confidence.

The new officers of Crystal Fount Lodge, I. O. O. F., elected Monday evening, are: N. G. Isaac, N. Phillips, V. G. G. Taylor, C. Brown, Secretary, Secretary, Alonzo L. Perham; Permanent Secretary, Charles E. Richardson; Treasurer, Orlando M. Brooks.

Y. P. S. C. E. and Ladies Industrial Society of the First Baptist church will hold their regular meeting, Monday, May Morning in the vestry of their church. Breakfast will be served at an early hour that all, especially interested business men, may be introduced. Watch for particulars.

Now that President Amos F. Breed has returned from Mexico it is expected that the change of motive power on the North Woburn St. R. will soon be made. There is a hitch in the proposed sale of it to a new Company, so it is likely the present owners will do the work of changing to electricity.

We see no reason why Mayor Allen should not renounce Dr. George P. Bartlett for the Board of Health, that the union is absolutely certain that he would not be confirmed. Why his first nomination was rejected is something we do not understand. He is certainly a good man for the position.

The alarm from box 67 Tuesday evening at 9:50 was for a fire in the house of Daniel Weldon on Plympton street, caused by the explosion of a lamp. Damage slight. $32 was rung in Wednesday morning, 10:50 for a great fire at the residence of G. W. Brown corner of Lexington and Burlington sts.

Mr. Amos Cummings sells a pile of those choice teas and Vanities Canton Crystallized Ginger packages in which are a few well supplied. Vanities & Co. of New York city import them especially for their own trade, and connoisseurs pronounce them to be the best tea and ginger to be had in America.

Next Thursday evening, April 9, Post 33, G. A. R., will celebrate the 31st anniversary of Lee at Appomattox by a Supper at the Hotel, which will be given and invited and will probably be present and participate in the celebration. Commander Fletcher and Adj. Warren both say that a good time is expected.

Mr. Frederic H. Lewis, Principal of the Lewis Music School of this city and Director of the Woburn Music Society, has been appointed one of the organizers of the Cecilia Chorus of Woburn. Mr. B. J. Lawrence is the other. This appointment is being in musical circles to be an honor.

The new organization of the Board of Cemetery Commissioners is as follows: John W. L. Converse, Clerk; Mr. Andrew R. Linscott, Mr. Joseph E. Stewart has been unanimously elected Superintendent of the Salem street cemetery. Wouldn't this be a good year to give that cemetery an appropriate name?

Gen. A. P. Martin was greeted by a large and intelligent audience at the Congregational church last Thursday evening week. His lecture on the "Battle of Gettysburg" was intensely interesting and drew back the feeling that there ought to have been another hour of it. Everyone spoke of it in the highest terms.

As we understand it, the Receivers of the Woburn Electric Light Company have not yet been discharged. Negotiations are however in progress which will soon place the property in the hands of the new Company, who are already taking steps to greatly improve it and give its patrons a good light and power service as any plant in the country.

The numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Porter of Pleasant st., will observe in the future and properly celebrate the 25th anniversary of the marriage of that estimable couple on Monday evening next. So far as we have been able to learn, Mrs. P. A. Haskell and John H. Porter are the Masters of Ceremonies. It is proposed to have a great time.

In a summary of the amount of lumber cut in Coos county, N. H., this winter, published in the Boston papers last Tuesday, it was stated that the output of the Weston Lumber Co. at Groveton was 12,000,000 feet. This is the Company of which the late Mr. Joseph B. McDonald was the head and principal owner, of which his son, Mr. Fred W. McDonald, is the present manager.

Mr. E. J. Gregory advertises as being today which can be relied on as a means of what it is recommended. He has owned it for at least 15 years and formerly had a large business in it in Boston and neighborhood, but of late has taken no pains to keep it up. It was prepared at that time by Mr. Gregory's predecessor 35 years, making 50 years of continuous use during which period the remedy has permanently cured thousands of people. There is no humbug or question of its curative qualities about it. Mr. Gregory's name on it is a sufficient guarantee that the medicine is an honest one and will accomplish all that is claimed for it. Besides that he can show any number of testimonials from prominent Boston people as to its efficacy. It is honest goods.

It doesn't cost you a cent to look over our line of hats and it might be the means of saving you anywhere from 50c to $2.00. We've sold hats to lots of people, who came in just to look around and some of them have told us that they have been paying other stores a great deal more for hats not as good as ours. How about your hat? Richardson's, 431 Main street.

The subject of this brief notice, Mrs. NANCY KNIGHT of 24 Sturgis street, this city, was born at Newburyport, March 20, 1805, and was 90 years old last Monday. John Knight, her husband, a man well esteemed, died in 1864, since which time she has been with her daughter, Mrs. Kate L. Stearns, and enjoyed a quiet, peaceful and happy existence. Her mother died when she was 12 years old, but her father lived until he was 92. Her maiden name was Knight, an old Newburyport family.

Mrs. Knight joined the First Baptist church in her young days and was an exemplary Christian life. She has always been conscientious in the discharge of her religious duties, and a regular church attendant. She has many friends and is held in high regard by them.

Mrs. Knight's faculties are but little impaired; she is an intelligent talker; and she bids fair to live quite a good many years longer.

The Summer Loan Year party given by Miss Laura DeLoraine and Miss May and Gertrude Anderson last Friday evening was a pretty and successful one. The patrons were: Mayor Allen, Judge P. L. Converse and Daniel W. Bond, Esq. Miss May Anderson Floor Director, and the others were: Laura S. Cox, Mable Lane, Minnie Sule, Jennie Child, Bessie Rogers. Everything passed off beautifully.

Mrs. Mayor Allen, assisted by her sisters, the Misses Hoover, received the distinguished guests of the Mayor, Col. Barker, Mayor H. Converse, Mayor Mosman, and a small party of prominent Woburn citizens, in the elegant parlors of their fine residence on Church Avenue, Wednesday, in a manner that delighted all present. True Kentucky hospitality was dispensed, and the best of the season before rejoining to the Army to open the great Phoenix Fair was pleasantly spent.

J. J. Munroe offers for rent the very desirable house just vacated by Mr. S. F. Trull on Montvale Ave. It is to be put in perfect order; $20 a month. Also, the J. W. Shaw house, No. 5 Church st., 8 rooms, sunny side, $15 a month. Same party has for sale the ideal residence and stable belonging to C. H. Arnold on Canal st. It is in perfect order, most ready for immediate occupancy. Also the Blaney house and stable Cummingsville, and many other houses of less cost in all parts of the city.

Among the 5 or 10 workmen employed by Mr. C. M. Strout are several plumbers who are experts at the business. The announcement of this fact is important just now when house owners and others have been notified that the city has ordered that all new houses and old ones to be made by May 1 and good plumbers are in lively demand. Already the work of making individual connections with the sewer mains is under way and Mr. Strout and his plumbing specialists are up to their elbows in jobs. Mr. Strout himself has the reputation of being a thorough workman and that secures full employment for him and his men on this branch of their trade.

G. R. Gage & Co., Merchant Tailors, it seems to us have shelled for present use a larger and finer stock of gentlemen's suits, frocks, overcoats, vesting, and all other kinds of goods in their line, than we ever before saw at their popular establishment. The latest styles in fabric and figure, everything new and stylish, is to be found there, and Mr. John Adams, the new cutter, one of the very best, and experienced, will cut the elegant goods and to them make up a mode, and at a price that defy competition. Mr. Adams is a Boston cutter, and that is enough said. Gage & Co. are doing a fine business.

Crystal Fount Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold an installation and banquet at Old Fellowship hall on Wednesday evening, April 5th. Dist. Grand Master C. L. Fitzhugh, Grand Master W. E. Barrows, Grand Master Wm. Leavens, Grand Sec. C. S. Taylor, G. P. Sec. E. A. Tucker, and Treas. W. P. Hanson, G. I. Guard, G. B. F. Maxwell, all of Medford, will attend.

The house on the banks of Horn Pond of the Innitum Club has been put into fine trim for use this season. The Club are looking for some lively canoeing as soon as the water and weather are in proper condition.

Lawyer Samuel W. Mendum has moved into his new home at College Hill and finds himself very pleasantly situated. Mrs. Mendum too likes the new quarters. We had hoped to see Esquire Mendum in his famous "skit dance" once more, but this settling down to home life may disappoint us.

Judge P. L. Converse is writing another book on Woburn legends, local history, old buildings, scenes, etc., which is elegantly illustrated. Its composition is nearly completed, and artists are making some of the pictures. It promises to be a choice work, for which no doubt there will be a brisk demand.

When one feels the grip coming on he should go at once to Gordon Parker's and take 10 grains of quinine and put a couple more doses of the same size in his pocket, one for when he goes to bed and the other to "spread" his bread and butter with the next morning. Grip can't live under such treatment very long.

The Woburn Electric Light Company have reorganized with a new Board of Directors who will forthwith put the plant into first class shape and inaugurate an entirely new and better condition of affairs. It is said that Supt. Blaisdell resigned last January, but that his resignation has not yet been accepted by the Company. With Woburn, Winchester and Stoneham and their street and electric lines to "spread" electric roads, and manufacturing machinery, for regular customers, the Woburn plant can easily be made one of the most valuable in the State.

We are more than concerned to find out what, if anything, is being done towards securing legislative amendments to our city charter. It appears to us as though the matter had got stalled somewhere. It is earnestly hoped and prayed that the present Legislature will get through work and go home, and that the matter will be brought up and that the committee having the charter in hand expect to accomplish anything they must be up and doing. Of course the JOURNAL has but little faith that anything will be done, and it is not absolutely certain that anything ought to be.

Dr. Lawton, ophthalmic specialist, will be at Deans' jewelry store, Thursday, April 9.

There's a great deal in looks and no man can look his best in a shabby or out of date hat. The only difference between our $2.50 hat and the one you would pay $2.50 or $4.00 for in the city, is in the price. What you would save in buying from us would buy you a shirt and perhaps more. Richardson's, 431 Main street.

John W. Johnson, Esq., has bought or taken (we don't quite know what sort of a title his possession rests on) the Johnson house, which is a fine old house, and was his and his family's home until after his majority, and has entered on an agricultural career, or at least he will carry on the old farm, but he has abandoned the law for a profession. This arrangement enables Lawyer Johnson and his wife and brood to have their table supplied daily, or as the case may be, with perfectly fresh, pure, unadulterated milk, new laid "Woburn" eggs, and some other desirable things, from the enjoyment of which the average denizen of the city is debarred. The house is a great many advantages in it besides the products named above. A good farm is a good thing to have. For a professional man, full of business, one is desirable in many points of view. We do not understand that Mr. Johnson has for the present, personally market the surplus vegetables grown on his Cummingsville estate.

It doesn't cost you a cent to look

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, APRIL 10, 1896.

IN AID OF CUBA.

The resolution of sympathy for the Cubans, previously adopted by the U. S. Senate, went through the House a few days ago by practically a unanimous vote. It has been laid before the President, although, the resolution being concurrent instead of joint, what- ever he may do in the premises, if any- thing, will be entirely voluntary on his part.

The Massachusetts delegation voted solidly against it because they consid- ered themselves better judges of the case than all the rest of the House put together. Our people are fortunate in being represented by such wise and pure minded statesmen.

The Cuban patriots, it is reported, are overjoyed with the action of Con- gress.

In voting against the Cuban resolution, Congressman Knott mani- fested a disregard for the opinions of the Republicans of this District that was somewhat surprising. It was diffi- cult too to reconcile his fearful expres- sions of sympathy for the Cubans with his subsequent vote.

"The High Life" coffee ground, canned and sold by Winslow, Rand & Watson of Boston is of superior quality and retains its strength and flavor just as well as in the berry. So also their high grade Mocha. The secret of its preservation lies in the way the firm first roasts the berries. Life and Mocha are favorite brands with the public.

Henshaw & Riley, plumbers, have opened at No. 32, Bowler st. They are prepared to furnish estimates, execute or- ders, and to do all work in the best man- ner and at moderate prices. They are ex- perienced and long tried in their line, and everything at command for doing first-class work. They have been at the business here since Christmas.

Miss Clara M. Fox, Cor. Sec. of Woburn Y. P. S. E., sends us the following for publication: "Maiden is preparing to give a royal welcome to the Christian En- davor Society of Middlesex County, on Monday, April 20. Two large audiences have been secured and preparations are being made on a large scale for the entertain- ment of all that may wish to attend."

The unexpected consolidation of some of the Bellingham schools near Miss Flora Nichols and Miss Mabel Burgess over an employment as teachers there last fall. They were not long in the engagement, and never. Miss Burgess went to teaching in a school at Roxford two weeks ago, and Miss Nichols will leave tomorrow to begin in a Woburn school next Monday.

The case of inquiry into the legality of the election of Common Councilman Horace N. Cohn came up by process of information before the Board of Aldermen last night Friday but on account of error in the papers was postponed to yesterday. Lawyer Sullivan of Stoneham was the Attorney for the Board, and the case was argued by Mr. Cohn and his counsel for the respondent. We have not heard how it came out.

The millinery opening of Mr. Anna Cummings will take place on Tuesday, Wed- nesday and Thursday, April 15, 16, 17. He has laid in with the proper U. S. authorities for an uninterrupted supply of nice sunshiny wares for the occasion, and as to the other matters, and his part of the business, it can be said that he is prepared to give the best opening ever seen in Woburn. Ladies will see the importance of fixing the date of their millinery in the minds of those who are in their minds, for it is going to be some- thing they cannot afford to miss.

Chute, one of the depot Johns, he who won the fine harness at the Phoenix Fair, has bought a new passenger carriage, and it is a dandy. Now, if he will only get a stovepipe hat and a long tail much buttoned coat, in true coachman style, and in keeping with his fellow coachmen, or some of them, there is no reason in the world why he should not capture the heart of the depot travel.

About this time of the year the travel- ing tuner (?) comes forth, and pulls out a piano here and there today and gone to- morrow; his work unsatisfactory. It is better to hire a responsible tuner, one who is known, than to trust your piano to the mercy of these men; the piano is too delicate a piece of mechanism to be fooled with by incomp- etent workman. Look in our advertising columns for tuner.

Clark Lynch received a letter Monday afternoon from the State Board of Health ex- amining the Woburn Board of Health. The examiners of suspected diphtheria borne, the cost of which has heretofore been borne by the public, will hereafter be made by the State medical authorities free of charge. This, Mr. Lynch says, will save our city quite a good deal of money, as already some $75 has been paid out for these exami- nations.

Mr. J. H. Nason, of Nason & Durgin, excursionists, Boston, returned from Wash- ington, D. C., last Sunday with a large party of excursionists, conducted by him to the Capital, successfully chartered, and safely landed at the Hub again. While in Washington Mr. Nason succeeded in having his party ceremoniously received by Speaker Reed and also by Senator Frye, with which honors they were highly pleased. We opine that few other conductors could have accom- plished this.

The officers of Crystal Fount Lodge, I. O. O. F., were publicly installed by the Grand Lodge Officers at Old Fellow's Hall last Wednesday evening. There was a banquet and fine music by the Union Quartet of Boston, assisted by several instrumental- ists. Mr. Isaac M. Phillips, Master of Crystal Fount, presided, and was followed by several gentlemen most entertainingly. It was quite a swell affair all through.

According to a certain Democratic newspaper the Overseers of the Poor are to be paid $650. The Board hired the new Master for $500, with probably an oral promise that he pay would be increased to $650. The Overseers, however, are not to be paid $650 a year. They are to be paid $750 a year. If passed, of course that would come under the name of the Overseers of the Poor, and would be a very large increase. It is a pity that the Overseers of the Poor are not paid more.

Water Registrar Barrett and Mr. Henry F. Ballou of 63 Pleasant st. think they have discovered the cause of the trouble with Horn Pond water, and it looks very much as if they are on the right track.

William Winn Hartwell and Philip Brown have returned to Williams College after a pleasant home vacation. Almy and Charles Hartwell have also gone back to the academic shades of Harvard and Dart- mouth.

Rev. Dr. Lorimer of Tremont Temple, Boston, preached to the Knights Templars last Sunday. Many in the audience were High Churchmen, and were in atten- dance. The services were held in Music Hall.

The second annual concert of the Rondo Sisters, violinists, will be given at Lyceum Hall on the evening of May 2. It will be remembered that No. 1 was a very fine entertainment, and that a large audi- ence enjoyed it.

Silk waists from $2.50 to $12.00. Ladies' skirts, separate dress, skirts from $1.25 to $15.00. Ladies' Spring capes from $1.25 to $15.00. Big stock jackets from $2.50 to $15.00. Big stock and lowest prices at McGraw's.

Has—lots of different shapes out this season and you want to see them. We have every style you name from $1.00 to $3.00. Agent for Lamson & Hubbard's spring style $3.00 hat. It is a dandy. Come and try it on. McGrath's.

Last Wednesday we had a call from Mrs. Nancy Knight, now in her 92nd, and a pleasant chat with her. Her home on Surgis street is nearly a mile from the city, but she has the round trip on foot, over the steep hills, and was none the worse for it.

Miss Annie Anderson, a beautiful young lady of 20 or thereabouts, was dis- covered morning near Horn Pond on Mon- day afternoon. She is thought, suicidal. The police took her to Station 1, where an inquisition was held on Monday morning concerning her sanity.

Last Monday this office was honored by a call from Mr. Henry L. Richards, Editor of The Sacred Heart, a Catholic weekly published at Cambridge. He is a Winchester resident, much esteemed, and years ago was a regular contributor to the Journal. He is regarded as a first-class newspaper man.

Someone, who has been counting, says there are a hundred and sixteen bicycle agencies in Woburn. Doubtless he is right, but the attention of all bicycle riders to the fact that we carry an immense line of Sweater in all grades from 50c to $5.00. A few elements' sample at half price. Richardson's, 431 Main st.

The Towns Cycle Club, of which E. C. Leathe is Capt.; E. Buck, 1st Lieut.; E. E. Leathe, 2d Lieut.; E. S. Knowlton, Ensign; A. L. Cummings, Jr., 1st Lieut.; will make the following April runs: At 2 p. m., 12 to Waltham; 10 a. m., 19, Blind run; 8 a. m., 20, Concord; 7 p. m., 22, Moonlight run; 10 a. m., 26, Salem.

Exclusive hat stores generally sell only their own particular styles in hats and charge you from 50c to $2.00 extra for their name in the hat. We have all the styles of hats, and the only difference is that you save anywhere from 50c to 2.00 buying from Richardson's, 431 Main st.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, APRIL 17, 1896.

FIFTH DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The Republicans of this District held a convention at Lowell last Friday, April 10, to elect two delegates to the St. Louis National convention. Mr. George H. Poor of Andover was President, and Mr. George W. Buchanan of Woburn, Secretary.

Mr. William M. Wood of Andover, and Mr. H. Kirk White of Lowell, were chosen delegates, and Judge Edward F. Johnson of Woburn, and Judge Newton E. Frye of North Andover, Alternates.

Everything and everybody was for Reed of Maine.

GREENHALGE MEMORIAL.

Memorial services in honor of the late Governor Frederic T. Greenhalge will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 18, in Mechanics Building, Boston. Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. S., will deliver the eulogy.

The Committee on invitations are Hon. John M. Harlow of the Governor's Council; Hon. George P. Lawrence, President of the Senate; George V. L. Meyer, Esq., Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Gypsy Moth Commission are doing a good work. They have been highly successful in prosecuting it. When they declared hostilities against the Gypsy Moth, four or five years ago, perhaps longer, it had its home in a few trees on a little patch of territory at Medford and Malden. By the expenditure of nearly half a million dollars the Commission have succeeded in scattering the pest over twelve towns and cities. With fairly liberal appropriations the Commission will, in time, be able to drive the Moths into every nook and corner of the State.

We were not aware until Gov. Wolcott's proclamation came out last Saturday that Arbor Day is a "movable feast." But such it appears to be, and the Governor has set apart Saturday, April 25, to be observed as such. He makes some good suggestions as to how the Day ought to be spent.

Reading "the handwriting on the wall" Congressman Elijah A. Morse of the 12th District has given notice that he will not be a candidate for reelection. His decision gives great satisfaction. Col. Henry A. Thomas will probably be his successor.

Common Councilman Conn's case was heard by the Attorney General last Saturday and taken under advisement. An idea prevails that it has been permanently pigeonholed.

Next Sunday is Patriots Day in this State—the anniversary of the Concord Fight on April 19, 1775. Some communities will celebrate it on Saturday, the 18th., and others on the 20th.

The Rhode Island Republicans are solid for Reed. Nobody else was talked of at their conventions last week.

It is expected that a goodly number of the Woburn Y. M. C. A. will attend the general convention at Malden on next Monday, April 29. The convention is expected to be an important one. Miss Fox, the Secretary, will be on hand, of course.

On account of additional water tax entailed by the introduction of the sewer system there has been a disposition on the part of house owners in this city to raise rents all along the line. The philosophy of the move is not apparent at first blush.

The Company of whom our road roller was purchased at home on Salem street yesterday forenoon, of pneumonia, Woburn has lost another of its oldest people. Edward Converse, his ancestor, was one of the original settlers of the town and built the first dwellinghouse in it in 1640, and people of the name and blood have always lived here since that day. Mr. Converse was a man of many sterling virtues, for which he was trusted and respected by all who knew him. He retired from active business pursuits several years ago.

The Board of Health are the subjects for a good deal of anything but amiable talk these days. The time limit in their order for sewer connections is regarded an order of the court, and not a commendable one as respects any class of people. It is looked upon as arbitrary and unjust. Several especially hard cases have come to the attention of the Board, and they might have been avoided by a little leniency and common sense on the part of the Board. They have no moral right to make rules for the citizens, but they have the right to make them. If all stories are true.

Mr. Benjamin H. Nichols of Main street has bought of the Blake brothers the real estate corner of Warren and Sturgis streets on which he will proceed at once to build a new and the best and best residences in this city. The site is an admirable one. Of course we all understand that Academy Hill is the "Court End" of the town, and that it is the most desirable place to live in Woburn. With Mr. Nichols' elegant residence on the other corner and an equally costly one on the Sturgis street corner, with Mrs. Fred Don's superb home and a row of fine houses across Warren street, the thoroughfare will be a handsome one.

Messrs. George W. Norris, John W. Johnson and John G. Maguire have issued a notice for a meeting to be held at Room No. 2 Mechanics Building at 8 o'clock this Friday evening, to arrange for a horseback ride to Lexington on Patriots Day to view again the ground on which the War of the Revolution was inaugurated on April 19, 1775, in which sanguinary affair and the final victory of the Men of Middlesex a large number of Woburn citizens took an active part, some of whom are still alive. A cordial invitation is extended to all who would like to do so to attend the meeting and assist in arranging for the ride.

One day lately George W. Carter, a Veteran of the War of Secession, and now in the 9th Bn. of the Sullivan's Home at Milwaukie, Wis., made this office a short visit. He was a member of the 9th Bn. Battery, Bigelow's, credited to Woburn, and was killed when discharged at the close of the War after 3 years' service. It is a wonder that he is still alive, for on March 19, 1862, while standing in a wagon at Woodstock, N. D., by a sudden start of the horse he was thrown to the ground and had his neck broken. He was a long while unconscious, but finally recovered in a paralytic condition, followed by the spinal cord roundabout, and at last he recovered. His is the second case of the kind on record. He came out to see Comrade Sullivan who served with him in the 9th Bn., but did not find him. He came Sullivan lives at Cambridge and does the business in Boston. It was a tough story about the broken neck, but true.

Our esteemed correspondent X makes the somewhat astonishing announcement in his valuable contribution to the columns of the Journal this week, that the officers of the Men's League have really outdone themselves. "Come from any other quarter we should be slow to credit the statement."

Post 33 G. A. R. propose to hold regular monthly smoke taks, which will be a good thing. Subjects connected with the Civil War will be discussed, personal experiences given, incidents and anecdotes related, and if young men and boys could attend they would find them a grand school for teaching patriotism.

Capt. McKay, the champion poloist of this city, and the best pugilist in the State, is still in the hospital but rapidly recovering from a surgical operation for appendicitis performed last week. The work of the surgeons was perfectly successful, and Capt. McKay will soon be as strong and well as ever.

Complaints against the public water in this city are again in force and more vociferous than ever. It would seem as though something might be done to remove the cause of the complaints. There is a screw loose somewhere. The water is in a wretched condition. Taking a hint from the Halfpenny pipe, why do not the Commissioners test the mains in various places and see how many of them are choked up with sediment?

Judge Charles D. Adams has bought the Nichols homestead at North Woburn and will make it the future residence of his family. It is said he intends to lay out considerable money on it by way of improvements and will have it first-class in every respect. The drift of the best part of our population is towards North Woburn.

Both partners of the Boston firm of Nelson & Durgin, Excursionists, left for Washington last Wednesday evening with the largest party of tourists that they have personally conducted since they have been in business, namely, 108. That looks good, though the firm have a boom, and also goes to show that they are popular.

Our old and greatly esteemed friend, Mr. William Kimball, of Woburn, N. H., was in the city this forenoon, on his way to meet many of his friends and former townspeople. He came down to superintend the placing of a handsome and costly family clock in the Woburn Cemetery. Kimball was looking vigorous and sprightly.

Principal W. S. Carter of the Woburn Industrial School has a notice to applicants in this paper to which the reader is referred. The School has grown rapidly from its establishment and is a valuable educational institution. It is in the best of hands, for Mr. Carter is not only deeply interested in its success, but has the ability to achieve it.

Postmaster Hagerly attended the annual ball of the Boston Letter Carriers at Mechanics Building, W. Boston, last Wednesday evening, and with his partner, Miss A. C. Doyle, was a guest at the banqueting board. Miss Doyle wore cream colored broadcloth and embroidered with violets, in which, the JOURNAL learns, she appeared quite "killing."

It will be decided at a meeting of the stockholders of the North Woburn Street Railroad to be held in Boston today whether the present Company will immediately proceed to change its motive power to electricity, or the road be sold to the Woburn & Reading Company, who will make the change if the sale is consummated. The public will know all about it tomorrow.

It is stated that the engagement of the quartet at the Congregational church is only temporary, and that it is by no means improbable that it will be abandoned for the more efficient and popular quartet of the Woburn & Reading Company, who will make the change if the sale is consummated. The public will know all about it tomorrow.

We advertise Joe Jefferson's appearance at the Boston Theatre on April 27, in "Rip Van Winkle," and ask particular attention for it. Nothing need be said of the engagement, for everybody knows Jefferson and "Rip."

General Secretary Frank E. Barnes has kindly presented us with a copy of "The Souvenir Electrical Carnival," a book of 128 pages, copiously illustrated with local scenes and buildings, containing a full information respecting the churches furnished by the several pastors, religious and charitable societies, the progress of the Carnival now in operation at the Skating Academy, the Y. M. C. A. organization, its officers and boards, the Y. P. S. C. E., and many others. It was the splendid work of printer H. M. Call, and is sold for the very low price of 10 cents a copy. We understand that the book is enjoying a great sale. For a keepsake or incident in the career of the Y. M. C. A., for the lists of names it contains to be scanned with increasing interest as the years go by, for its history and pictures, the "Souvenir" is worthy of preservation. For these reasons and others we should think every person in the city would buy a copy.

Fowle Bros. & Cleson.

Among Woburn manufacturers there is no one more worthy of special mention than that of Messrs. Fowle Bros. & Cleson, on Salem street. The extent of the business done there in the manufacture of band saws, belt knives, and turning tools, is hardly realized by our people, although many of the goods have won an enviable reputation at home and abroad. The establishment is in successful operation and growing. The firm make a specialty of the manufacture of Band Saws, and to show something of their merits and what others think of them, we reproduce the following account of a test published editorially in the Du Bois (Pa.) Evening Express of March 28, 1895.

HAND SAW TEST.

A very interesting and satisfactory trial of Fowle Bros. & Cleson band saws, made at Woburn, Mass., was given at the big mill yesterday. The test was witnessed by Frank Hatfield, superintendent of the mill. Mr. Ball, the inventor of several machines used in manufacturing lumber, F. E. Walker, Fowle Bros. & Cleson's representative in this State and several citizens of the town. The first test was made in a 15 inch cut, the saw cut in 10 in. 14 in. The next test was a 12 in. cut and with 74 in. feed with the same mill. The result was marvellous. Lumber, and saw continuing to run for five hours longer, going back to the fling room without a crack or disturbance. This is an exceptionally hard test and goes to prove that the Fowle Bros. & Cleson band saws are of the best. A. J. Burton, the expert logger in the employ of Fowle Bros. & Cleson attended to the fitting up of these saws and personally supervised the entire work. Fowle Bros. & Cleson are certainly in the front rank with the saw manufacturers.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, A'derman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an Ideal Panacea for Coughs, Colds and Lung Complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations." Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough Remedy now. Trial Bottles Free at Gordon Parker's Drug Store.

The First Meetinghouse.

Albert Thompson has recently painted a picture of the first meetinghouse built in Woburn, a reproduction of which, on a reduced scale, is to be used as the frontispiece of Judge F. L. Converse's forthcoming volume, "Woburn Legends." It was built in 1642 and covered the ground now occupied by the landward on the Common and some additional space to the east. It was a simple building, cleared of forest trees to allow for the construction of the humble edifice. The stumps are still to be seen in the Thompson's picture.

The building was single story in height, thatched with straw, and had a "mond" window sash, and as unpromising as can well be conceived of. Here the Reverend Father, the first of the order, expounded the gospel as he understood it, and tried to lead sinners to repentance. Standing on a spot opposite City Hall Mr. Thompson's painting shows the meetinghouse, and beyond it the personage, and thus it is preserved. At the left of the picture, in the distance, is seen Rag Rock, and the whole has an unmistakable pioneer appearance. Although of course there was no original building of a picture to copy from the accuracy of Mr. Thompson's production is undeniable. Every fact and bit of history bearing on the subject had been gathered up and put together, and it is absolutely certain that the meetinghouse, parsonage, Rag Rock, and forest surroundings, have been faithfully and truthfully brought out. The dimensions of the church were found in the records, the fact of its being thatched was proven; the boards were hauled from the mill of Edward Converse, who built the first dwelling in Woburn; in fact records and tradition furnished the groundwork, and a very interesting picture of our great value, has been produced by Mr. Thompson.

During the winter of 1893, F. M. Martin, of Long Beach, West Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he cured it he says: "I used several kinds of cough syrup but found no relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." When troubled with a cough or cold use this remedy and you will not find it necessary to try several kinds before you get relief. It has been in the market for over twenty years and constantly grows in favor and popularity. For sale at 25c and 50c per bottle by A. W. Whitteker, druggist.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, APRIL 24, 1896.

SENATOR LODGE'S EULOGY.

An immense number of people gathered in Mechanics Building, Boston, last Saturday afternoon to listen to the eulogy of Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. S., on the late Governor Greenhalge. In the great crowd were distinguished men from everywhere, to the State and from other States. Gov. Wolcott presided and appropriately opened the memorial exercises. The decorations were superb, while the singing, under the leadership of B. J. Lang, was the best that Boston could produce.

The oration of Senator Lodge was the main feature of the occasion. It was worthy of the orator and his subject. It was a grand funeral sermon. It did not particularly abound in flowers of speech, but pure thoughts were clothed in simple garb which was so attractive that the people would gladly have listened much longer than they did.

Nobody understood and appreciated the nobility of Gov. Greenhalge's character better than Senator Lodge, and there was not another man in the assembly better fitted to set forth his virtues than his eulogist on the present occasion. The oration elicited the highest eulogiums from all quarters.

NO SO BAD.

Last week the JOURNAL said the Circuit Boulevard enterprise had received a black eye from the Legislature. It was true that the petitioners had leave to withdraw but the decision was only one point in a general scheme which retried all applicants for aid from the Park Commissioners and placed them on an equal footing in what is known as the million dollar appropriation for Metropolitan Park purposes.

These facts, of which we were ignorant when last week's item was written, give the matter an entirely different complexion. Instead of a black eye the Circuit Boulevard scheme got a boost from the Legislative Committee.

At the Democratic State Convention held in Boston last Monday the delegates at large chosen to attend the Chicago convention were John E. Russell, John W. Corcoran, George E. Williams and James D. Donahue.

The N. W. street cars recommended their Medford extension trips last Sunday, on which day too open cars were first seen on that road this season. Business is expected to be brisk on that end of the line as the weather improves. It is expected that the Medford street railroad companies ought to exclude her from the benefits derived from them, but it doesn't seem to.

One of Forest Hooper's plumbers, who was at work there, was instrumental in saving drugist Brooks's store from burning up the other day. He discovered smoke issuing from the closet while plumbing in the rear of the building and, giving instant alarm, went vigorously to work and kept the blaze within bounds until the firemen got a-going. But for his pluck and forethought the store would have burned.

It is reported that Rev. Charles Anderson, former pastor of the North Congregational church and for many years last past a professor in Robert College, Constantinople, Turkey, of which his father-in-law, the venerable Cyrus Hamlin of Lexington, was the founder, will not return to this country as recently reported. He thinks his proper place for work is the College, and besides that, his wife does not favor a temporary return to this country.

Nearly all people need something to "tone up the system" at this season of the year. A feeling of lassitude gets hold of them at the opening of spring, they fall into a down-at-the-heel condition, become debilitated, and therefore need a tonic. One of the best on the market is Hood's Sarsaparilla, manufactured by Mr. E. P. Brooks of this city, a genuine "spring medicine," known to be pure and composed of the best materials, and really prime for building up health and warding off theague.

The Mens League are going to hold a field day next Monday night. They have been fortunate in securing for a lecturer on the occasion Hon. George G. Crocker, Chairman of the Boston Subway Commission, who knows subways from one end to the other, and will tell our people all about the big Boston enterprise. The lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon views of lots of things, and as Woburn is intensely interested in the Boston underground railroad now in course of construction, we shall be greatly disappointed if the gathering at the Congregational church next Monday evening is not very large indeed. We have not been informed whether there is to be a supper or not.

A report reaches this office that the Cemetery Commissioners have named the Salem street cemetery "Woodbrook Cemetery" by legal action and certain the same to the City Council, and "Woodbrook Cemetery" it is. No doubt the Commissioners can give good reasons for choosing that name, and we are not going to criticize the choice until we hear them, but at first blush it seems a queer one for that particular burying place. It is a curious union of two very good words, anyhow—wood, brook; wooden, brook; brookwood—but when it is remembered that on Brook street within several yards of the place the queerness of the name is emphasized. But we have faith in the good taste of the Board, so will wait their explanation.

A petition has been in circulation this week for signers asking the Board of Health to take some action relative to the condition of our water supply and to see what can be done to remedy the evil. The opinion is quite general that the bad taste and offensive odor of the water are due to decaying algae on the shores of Horn Pond, great quantities of which grow there, and that a removal of it will cure the whole matter. It is also believed that this can be accomplished by a liberal use of lime. People remember that when the Dow and Cummings tanneries were in full operation no algae grew in Horn Pond or in the reservoir, and it is only since these establishments closed, a few years ago, that the water weed has appeared. As is well known those tanneries used large quantities of lime daily; it found its way constantly into Horn Pond, and as long as it continued the water was odiferous, sweet to the taste and pure. A plenty of people profess to see logical connections between these facts, and so a petition with many names has been presented to the Board of Health to investigate the subject and give lime a fair test in the work of improving the quality of Horn Pond water.

Next Sunday will be Odd Fellows Day. It will be the 77th anniversary of the establishment of the Order in America and will be celebrated in due and regular form throughout the country. Noble Grand, I. M. Phillips of Crystal Lodge of this city has arranged for a proper observance of the day and if everything goes off according to programme it will be an interesting occasion. By invitation of Rev. D. Scudder, the pastor, the Lodge will attend divine services at the First Congregational church at 10.30, A. M. Sunday, April 26, and listen to a sermon by Mr. Scudder appropriate to the occasion. Special music will also be provided, and there will be flowers. Waterfield Lodge of Winchester has accepted an invitation from N. G. Phillips to attend the services, likewise Hope Degree of Rehoboth of this city. Seats will be reserved in the centre of the auditorium for these bodies. Noble Grand Phillips extends a cordial invitation to all Odd Fellows in the city, whether members of Crystal Lodge or not, to assemble at the Lodge Room at 9.45 Sunday morning and join the procession to the church. It is his intention, seconded by the officers and members of the Lodge, to so observe the anniversary that it will not soon be forgotten by the people of Woburn.

Dr. Lawton, ophthalmic specialist, will be at Deans' jewelry store, Thursday, May 7.

Speaking of house-cleaning and of those lace curtains you will probably want laundered, we would say, that we never run a lace curtain business. We do a large quantity of work. Some times we have to tell our customers that we cannot take their lace curtains, as usual to get their curtains, owing to the hundreds we have ahead, but we never slight the work. In the lace business, if you are thinking of having your curtains laundered, there, we would suggest that you call on us. They Banqueted, Chatted and Sang.
The White Mountain Excursionists of Sept. 16th, 1895, conducted by Mr. J. Howard Nason, held a most enjoyable reunion at the Crawford House, Boston, on the afternoon and evening of April 20. The large party were particularly happy in their association, and as the winter months wore over and by correspondence kept up, and a wish for a reunion spoken of, the party, must get together with Nason and talk over the delights of the mountain trip. Woburn had a representation of thirteen in the party, headed by Dr. Lawson Allen and wife. The Dr. & Woburn boys, now of Worcester, wished to be counted in. From Portsmouth, H. Lowell, Springfield, Somerville, Worcester, Brockton, South Boston, &c., they came, and sociability, music, and pleasant reminiscences marked the occasion. Mr. J. R. Grafton, as toastmaster, gracefully "mastered" the occasion, and the postprandials were arched with care, and served the mark every time. Mr. Nason's speech came first and was a pleasant reminder of the party—its thirty-eight members before him at the banqueting board, and the many who wanted to be there, and not. This jovial company, and its leader the same, kept in kindly remembrance "The Absentees" by Miss Kate Morrey, and Miss Clara Fox awoke the echoes of "Jerry," and those who regretted inexpressibly not to be in it.

The personnel of our excursion written by Miss Powers and read by Miss Kingman of Brockton, was a jeweled composition of rhythmic excess, hitting right and left. "Patriots Day" was responded to by Mrs. J. K. Murdock. The Woburn Ladies' Orchestra, Miss Josephine Lang, Conductor (who also was of the excursionists), charmed the large parlor gathering, after the feast of good things in the dining hall. Many were the commendatory remarks about this quartette. A song by Dr. Allen was much enjoyed, indeed the Dr. and his half were received with open arms and hearty "ahs."

Many such reunions be multiplied, scattering roses along life's pathway, to strengthen friendship and knowing each other better.—JENNIE SKINNER.

Tannery Suit Settled.
THE QUEEN CITY TANNERY SUIT, the parties to which were Samuel G. Maxwell, Plaintiff, and Laurence Lang, Defendant, has been amicably adjusted. Although neither Superintendent Maxwell nor Mr. Booth, who a settlement has been arrived at, by the terms of which Mr. Maxwell receives $10,000, representing salary and percentage of profits and continues in his present capacity as Superintendent, and Treasurer for the remainder of the year. Operations will shortly be resumed at the plant of the company and on a large scale than for some time past. This will be good news to the people of Woburn.—Titusville (Pa.) Morning Herald, April 18.

Mr. Samuel G. Maxwell, who has been so successful in his career, is a native of Woburn, son of Mr. John Maxwell, a well known tanner and leather maker. His friends here who will receive the news of his good fortune with pleasure. He originated, built up, and pushed to great success the Titusville tannery, and as Director of the Company, Manager, and Treasurer, made much loads of money for the Bebes and himself, of which, for 3 years, he was unable to get his share, or even a settlement with them. He was compelled at last to petition the court to force the matter, and they were glad to pay Maxwell $100,000 to be left off. He is still at the head of the Company, and the establishment is coming money, even in these dull times.

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla, gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have a magic touch. "For over 12 years I suffered from sour Stomach with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea and could not eat. I was very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came often and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. PETER BUNNY, Leominster, Mass.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1896.

In a fishing article headed "On for Maine" the Boston Globe of last Sunday made the following announcement respecting the plans of William Beggs, Esq., our Representative in the Legislature: "William Beggs, the Woburn tanner, is going to Grand Lake Stream" for his trout. He has attended closely to his duties at the State House this winter and is entitled to an outing. The Republicans of the District should see to it that Mr. Beggs is re-elected next fall, for he has made a faithful and efficient Representative.

Last Saturday we received a copy in pamphlet form of the "Speech of Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge before the Republican State convention of Massachusetts, March 27, 1896." As has been said many times by people and press, it was one of the ablest speeches ever delivered in the State. It is a public document that deserves to be preserved.

An esteemed Woburn citizen who can see as far into a grindstone as the next man baited a JOURNAL article on the concrete last Saturday evening to inform him that Mr. Frank Fowler, the saw manufacturer, will be the next Mayor of this city.

Mr. George H. King has sold the Beverly Citizen to Edward and Geo. H. Walter, two experienced newspaper men, who promise to keep their new purchase right up to high water mark. They'll do it too.

The people of this State, irrespective of party, are hoping that the Legislature will soon adjourn. They have been in session four months and a half and it ought to be time to quit. Biennials will soon get along.

Congressman William S. Knox of this District has kindly sent us a copy of the "Congressional Directory, 1st Session, 54th Congress," for which he will please accept our thanks.

The McKimley managers say there is nothing left for their side to do but go through the final shouting which their man has the delegates. But the Reed people are still quietly pegging away.

Major Russell of the H. S. B. has been very ill of pneumonia but is much better. His illness will however probably prevent the holding of a Field Day by the Woburn and neighboring High School Companies as talked of a few weeks ago.

As a sort of rift in the cloud the fact is pointed to that Mr. Amos Cummings is doing more business at the present time than it did in May last year. Considering the unusual business depression, this speaks well for the store and its proprietor.

Engineer Charles Chase on his 5:30 run down last Monday morning picked up James McGonigle, from the track at West Medford, who had been run over and killed probably by an early freight and took him to the depot. The body was terribly mangled.

Something has got to be done, so the Chief Engineer says, towards providing a new home for the Hook and Ladder Company and apparatus. Either the present house must be set back or a new one built. The necessity for the change will admit of no delay.

The flowerbeds of Mrs. Mayor Allen on Church Ave. look quite charming and thrifty. A due regard for truth compels us to admit that they are ahead of the Editor's just across the street. Mrs. Allen takes great pleasure in the cultivation of flowers.

Attention is directed to the card of Mr. George H. Leslie, nurse, in this paper and also to the fact that he is open to calls anywhere in the State or out of it. He stands so well as a nurse, night or day, that he is almost constantly employed in taking care of the sick here and elsewhere. Mr. Leslie's charges are moderate.

It is gratifying to witness the improvements of the streets that are going on. There is great need of them, for Main st. in an especial manner is in a bad condition. "With a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull together" by the Mayor, the Committee on Highways, and the Street Superintendent a better state of things is sure to come.

Mr. Henry F. Davis of J. A. Freeman & Co., machinists whose specialty is leather making machinery, tells the JOURNAL that his business in that line is pretty dull just now, but that from what he can see and what Boston men say to him he thinks the tide has turned and that leather manufacturing has already started the other way and is picking up.

For a week past Mr. Waterman Brown has been taking an inventory of the stock of songs that he has been 60 years collecting. The number is about 8,600, and include negro melodies, circus songs, theatre pieces—serious, comic, rollicking and sedate—and is a wonderful and valuable collection. As he is no singer and not much of a whistler the wonder is why he bought and saved them.

The National Band Association held a business meeting last Monday evening at which the following officers were elected: President, Henry L. Carter; Financial Secretary, Hugh McDonald; Recording Secretary, B. Mahoney; Steward, John H. Foley; Directors, Hugh McDonald, Patrick Calnan, John Mahoney. The Band will give their annual ball and concert in Memorial Day eve at Lyceum Hall.

Mr. Ward W. Hart was very grateful to our reporter for setting the hour of Prior's auction sale of ancient furniture at the Cutler homestead at Burlington last Tuesday, at 10 p. m. for it gave him an opportunity to come out from Boston, eat his supper, shave, and reach the sale in good shape, which he could not have done if any other hour had been designated. That was just like the JOURNAL—it is always doing something to please its friends.

And now the proposition is made to roof over the Cutler estate, the sun air, and thus prevent the growth of a vegetable matter in it. Verily the purification of our water supply, if needed any is necessary, is a vexed question. The Board of Health have men at work on the margin of Horn Pond clearing away accumulations of floating substances which are thought to be the origin of the trouble, which is eminently proper, but it is by no means certain that their work will be effectual. It has been recently discovered that algae contains no dangerous bacteria, and that it is entirely inoffensive and harmless.

The lecture of John L. Maile of Whitman College, Washington, on the "Ride of Marco Whitman, or how the Northwest was saved," at the Congregational church last Sunday evening, under the auspices of the Sunday School, for the benefit of the College, was well attended and interesting. Native Americans, as a general thing, are familiar with the story of the heroic and successful efforts of Mr. Whitman for America, but it will bear frequent repetition, and Mr. Maile made it very entertaining. There was music by an Orchestra and other aids to a successful and pleasant meeting.

Young George Hunt, 636 Main st., student of designing, had a very pleasant surprise happen to him in Boston last Saturday afternoon. He was walking leisurely down Boylston st., when a gentlemanly looking person jumped from a passing car and handed him an envelope. The man said nothing, and when young Hunt, who was greatly surprised, looked up to protest against taking the letter, the stranger was hastily boarding the car again. It was all the work of a moment. Then Hunt concluded to open the envelope and on doing so found a $1 ticket for the Boston Museum which he made for the most of by using it and enjoying a fine play. It was a queer thing to do, but we'll wager a biscuit that the man who gave young Hunt the ticket has a "heart bigger than an ox" under his waistcoat.

After about three weeks nursing of a Swede man who was dangerously ill of typhoid fever at the Burlington almshouse, on the recommendation of Dr. F. W. Graves, the attending physician, Mr. George H. Leslie, professional nurse, whose card is in this paper, left his patient last Saturday morning rapidly improving and nearly well. He was more competent, or people better adapted to the service, than Master and Matron Folsome of the Burlington almshouse it would be hard to find anywhere. Their kindness has won the good will of all the inmates of the institution, who speak in the highest terms of the provision made by the Master and Matron for their comfort. Mr. Leslie thinks very highly of Mr. and Mrs. Folsome and pays this tribute to their worth, with pleasure, unfeigned.

Dr. Lawton, ophthalmic specialist, will be at Deans' jewelry store, Thursday, May 21.

City Government.

ALDERMEN.

On account of indisposition Mayor Allen was unable to preside at the meeting of the Aldermen held on Thursday evening, May 7, and President O'Donnell occupied the Chair.

The following petitions were received: Of New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. to erect poles on Washington, Grove and Cedar streets. Granted; A. L. Richardson & Bro. et al. for edging sidewalks and brick sidewalks from 415 to 437 Main street. Granted; Alva S. Wood, Sumner Flagg and Charles Cummings that damages be assessed for land taken for sewer purposes. Hearing ordered for Tuesday evening, May 12, at 8 o'clock; E. J. Gregory and W. H. Smith for auctioneer's license. Granted; J. Conolly for license to establish a night lunch cart on Everett street. Granted; Eugene A. Pierce nomination for Park Commissioner—City Auditor's March report received and filed.—Bonds of J. M. News, Thomas Mulken, Edward Simonds, as Constables, approved; Jonathan C. Ely's appointment as Sealer of Weights and Measures unanimously confirmed.

Ald. Bryant and Brown appointed a committee to confer with the Electric Light Co. concerning the annoyance of the call whistle.—Order requesting a transfer of $2,000 from Miscellaneous to Board of Health for removal and prevention of algae in Horn Pond, order on transfer of $2,000 from Miscellaneous to Public Property for the payment of bills already contracted, and replacing sanitaries at Montvale School as ordered by the Board of Health, referred.

The Joint Standing Com. on Public Property were authorized to lay out and name the plot of ground east of the new street through Woodbrook Cemetery near junction of Salem and Beach streets.

City Solicitor Feeney rendered opinions: That it was the duty of the Board of Health to look after the conditions of Horn Pond and our water supply; that the action of the Com. on Highways in reporting the laying out of a new street through Woodbrook Cemetery without notice of a public hearing. Ordered that the City Clerk notify Col. Woodward of the Woburn & Readville Railway that the poles delivered along the proposed line lack uniformity of size, are crooked, and fall the ties are not of first quality, and that the company must carry out in good faith the provisions of the contract.

Mishawum Road adopted for name of parts of New Boston Valley and Middle streets.—Claim of Charles Cummings for damages to greenhouse referred to Ald. Tucker and McGonigle for investigation for damages to A. S. Wood and S. Flagg for damages referred to special committee.—Orders adopted: Lights on Beacon Cambridge and Bedford streets; to accept Act of Leg. for appropriating money for water works; for order of City officials to furnish annual reports by May 21; instructing City Solicitor to take such action as may be necessary to secure salaries earned in 1894.—Petitions received from C. A. Burdett and others for laying out public way known as Francis street; E. J. Harrington et al. for electric lights on Scott and Plympton streets.

A Pleasant Reception.

A pleasant party was given in the parlors of the M. E. church in this city on Thursday evening, May 7, to formally welcome Rev. A. M. Osmond, of the pastorate of that church, and his wife, to this city. They must have been deeply gratified with the reception given them not only by their own denomination but by representatives from other religious societies, and citizens, for it was warm and hearty, and participated in by nearly all of the good people as there are in Woburn. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all present, and by some more so than the new pastor and his estimable spouse.

Mr. Warren F. Adams, an active and influential member of the church, and a Methodist without guile, was Master of Ceremonies and discharged the duty of that honorable and responsible office in the best possible manner. The receiving committee consisted of: Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Osmond, Rev. and Mrs. T. Berton Smith, Rev. Henry C. Parker of the Unitarian church, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Carey Barrows of the Baptist church, Rev. C. Jean Jacques of the St. John Methodist church, Rev. and Mrs. Doreana Souder of the First Congregational church.

The very pleasant affair was in charge of the church committee, to wit: Moses W. True, Chairman, Mr. Warren F. Adams, Mrs. Annie Adams, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Frye, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Call, Mrs. M. W. True, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. S. Dickinson, Miss Jessie Kendrick; Com. on Decoration, Ernest A. Legg, Wilbur F. Wilson, Mrs. Edith Staples, Miss Winifred Page and Miss Grace Dickinson.

The parlors were charmingly decorated with palms and ferns in which they were so attractive and beautiful. After prayer and singing in a few felicitous words, Master of Ceremonies Adams announced the object of the gathering, and was followed by Reverend Parker, Barrows, Souder, who welcomed the new pastor to this city, and by Rev. Mr. Osmond in response. Letters were read from Daniel March, D. D. and Rev. Robert K. Smith of Trinity church.

An hour of pleasant social intercourse followed these, and then the meeting broke up.

Lithia Water.

Capt. Jacob M. Ellis of this city is the author of the statement that the Lithia Water of Rubino Healing Springs at Hot Springs, Bath County, Va., is especially adapted for the cure of the disease for which it is recommended, especially in cases of stomach and kidney troubles, rheumatism, etc. During two visits to the springs and in the use of the water at home he has derived great benefit, which induces him to ask for it to be supplied to the afflicted. It is sold in Woburn by Arthur W. Whittier, the druggist. Other testimonials of the highest character as to the medicinal qualities of the water are furnished.

Firemen's Relief Association.

At the annual meeting of the Woburn Firemen's Relief Association held on Wednesday evening, May 13, 1896, the following officers were elected: President, Albert A. Ferrin; Vice President, Frank E. Tracy; Secretary, George H. Newcomb; Financial Secretary, G. H. Brauer; Treasurer, Edward E. Stowers; Auditors, J. C. Laroek, J. H. Bates, F. M. Doherty.

The Association is in a flourishing condition and has $1,635.05 in its treasury.

Sheridan Circle.

Within the next two weeks Woburn will witness something akin to a genuine real estate boom. Wood, Harmon & Co. of 13 School street, Boston, who bear the reputation of being the largest suburban real estate operators in the world, have purchased the well known Richardson property on Main street and intend making of it a residential suburb for people of moderate incomes. The property is in Winchester, but adjoins the Woburn line, being only a few seconds walk from the Cross street station. There is a frontage of over 800 feet on Main street and the Winchester Water mains extend to within 200 feet of the property.

Wood, Harmon & Co. propose to expend thousands of dollars in making improvements, including well graded streets and sidewalks. Lots will be sold on the installment plan, from a dollar a week upward, according to size and location. The improvements will be free to purchasers; also life insurance to the full value of the purchase. There will be no taxes to pay and neither notes or mortgages are required. Valuable cash prizes are given to builders, and in truth the people of Woburn will be given a chance to secure homes or make small investments in a way never before presented to them.

Boston Theatres.

THE PALACE.

The French Polka, burlesque and specialty company will be the attraction at the Palace Theatre in Boston next week. This company has enjoyed a successful record for several seasons, and at closing and its name has come to be regarded as an evidence that its management is of the highest. It is composed of some of the best vaudeville performers in the business and they are assisted by a big chorus of handsome girls. There is not a weak feature in the entire show and all who visit the Palace Theatre next week will enjoy a long and varied bill of excellent burlesque and specialty.

All Free.

Woburn Board of Trade.

Directors elected Lawrence Reade President (who has been active in supporting the Board, since its organization) and has been a Vice-President for years); L. Waldo Thompson, 1st, and A. N. Webster, 2d, Vice-Presidents; also Frederic H. Lewis, Secretary, at a meeting on Tuesday evening.

Active measures are now being taken to make the work of the Board felt in the community. The question of our railway accommodations, proposed new schools, water, sewerage, streets, sidewalks, lights, and other matters of public interest, need such consideration as only a Board of Trade can give. Will our people fall in line and support this movement and carry it to success?

A Correction.

In "Economy," an article printed in the JOURNAL on May 1, it was stated that the heretofore $50 had been paid by the Highway Committee for services on the streets for which $37.50 is paid this year. This was an error. The price paid has been $4 for man and cart and single horse, and $50 for two horses. This correction is made in justice to former Highway Committees.

The very pleasant affair was in charge of the church committee, to wit: Moses W. True, Chairman, Mr. Warren F. Adams, Mrs. Annie Adams, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Frye, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Call, Mrs. M. W. True, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. S. Dickinson, Miss Jessie Kendrick; Com. on Decoration, Ernest A. Legg, Wilbur F. Wilson, Mrs. Edith Staples, Miss Winifred Page and Miss Grace Dickinson.

The parlors were charmingly decorated with palms and ferns in which they were so attractive and beautiful. After prayer and singing in a few felicitous words, Master of Ceremonies Adams announced the object of the gathering, and was followed by Reverend Parker, Barrows, Souder, who welcomed the new pastor to this city, and by Rev. Mr. Osmond in response. Letters were read from Daniel March, D. D. and Rev. Robert K. Smith of Trinity church.

An hour of pleasant social intercourse followed these, and then the meeting broke up.

Lithia Water.

Capt. Jacob M. Ellis of this city is the author of the statement that the Lithia Water of Rubino Healing Springs at Hot Springs, Bath County, Va., is especially adapted for the cure of the disease for which it is recommended, especially in cases of stomach and kidney troubles, rheumatism, etc. During two visits to the springs and in the use of the water at home he has derived great benefit, which induces him to ask for it to be supplied to the afflicted. It is sold in Woburn by Arthur W. Whittier, the druggist. Other testimonials of the highest character as to the medicinal qualities of the water are furnished.

At the annual meeting of the Woburn Firemen's Relief Association held on Wednesday evening, May 13, 1896, the following officers were elected: President, Albert A. Ferrin; Vice President, Frank E. Tracy; Secretary, George H. Newcomb; Financial Secretary, G. H. Brauer; Treasurer, Edward E. Stowers; Auditors, J. C. Laroek, J. H. Bates, F. M. Doherty.

The Association is in a flourishing condition and has $1,635.05 in its treasury.

SHERIDAN CIRCLE.

Homes for the Working People! Chance of a Lifetime.

This is the greatest opportunity ever offered to the people of WOBURN to secure a home or make a profitable investment.

WOOD, HARMON & CO., of 13 School st., Boston, the largest suburban real estate operators in the world, have purchased the old Richardson property on Main st., near the Cross st. station Woburn, and propose developing it into a residential suburb. Streets will be built and sidewalks constructed. Thousands of dollars will be expended on improvements. The prices of lots will be so reasonable, and the terms so liberal, that any person making living wages can afford to buy a lot either for home purposes or investment. Stop paying rent! Enjoy a place of your own. Take advantage of our remarkable offers and you will be the winner. SHERIDAN CIRCLE is in WINCHESTER, and adjoins the Woburn line, being only a few seconds walk from the Cross st. station. The water mains are laid to within 200 feet of the property. In the rear is the Woburn reservoir. It takes but 10 minutes on the street cars from the Square to reach Sheridan Circle. By August 1, the electric line will be in operation directly in front of the property. There is a frontage of over 800 feet on Main street.

MONDAY, May 25,

has been fixed upon as "opening day," but take our advice and visit Sheridan Circle at once. Select your lot in advance of the crowd. Agents at the property every day, including Sunday.

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustler needs to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become enervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

At the Tremont Theatre, BEGINNING MAY 18.

Next week the Tremont Theatre, Boston, will hold many hundreds of Royal Arcanum badges, worn by the members of this great order, and the hundreds who make up the balance of the audience cannot but enjoy the performances which are to be given by the Royal Arcanum Hospital Association of Massachusetts for the benefit of the fund which is to provide hospital care to every member of the order in Massachusetts. The first part of each entertainment is a musical and social circle, performance, although many entirely new features will be introduced. The second part is a comedy, "A Social Escapade," is a new musical comedy, composed by Miss Anna A. Andrews of Cambridge, who is a Radcliffe girl, an accomplished cellist, and a general favorite in musical and social circles. Stage manager Seymour says the comedy is a remarkably clever piece. Lieutenant Governor Wolcott and Stoddard, will grace the first performance. A few good seats for any of the entertainments may still be had at the Tremont Theatre box office, but early application is positively necessary.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every one must solve for himself. It is a question which only a few can solve, but it can be made one of these quarters that to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. For sale by A. W. Whittier, druggist.

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration" in every direction. That tired ing is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, every muscle, every fiber of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember that

A FAD

Is a popular craze. There are Fads and Fads. Some are sensible. Some are not. With the latter class we have nothing to do. We wish to call your attention to SHIRT WAISTS. What so bright, so chic, so piquant, so stylish, so cool, so comfortable, so reasonable as a pretty, well-made, well-ventilated Shirt Waist? They can be worn with any skirt, hence their all around usefulness. The season's patterns are bewilderingly beautiful and strikingly stylish. We have them in attractive Percales of many colors and patterns, either plaited or gathered. The price? From 50c. to $1.25. This is a fad for summer thought.

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1896.

Late Local News.

REPORTED BY THE GEN. SECRETARY.

Ladies, remember we are planning for a union service May 24.

Since young men have already joined the Greek club which meets every Sunday evening in our parlor at 7.30 o'clock.

Any young man of good moral character and a member of the Association and secure the use of our tennis courts by the payment of two dollars.

The regular monthly meeting of the Directors will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, May 19. Let every member be present to hear the report of Electrical Carnival Committee.

The annual meeting of the General Secretaries and other paid employees of the Association of North America will be held in Cleveland, O., June 5-8. It promises to be one of the largest and most ever held.

The Salem, Mass., Association has secured property containing 21,548 square feet of land upon which it is proposed to erect a building for its permanent occupation. The property cost $30,000 and has a frontage on the river of 100 feet.

Rev. R. W. Haskins, who was to address the Men's Meeting last Sunday, will be the pastor, instead, and we are glad to invite all men to improve this opportunity of hearing him for he has had a large experience in work for young men.

We trust that all our lady friends will keep Tuesday afternoon, May 20, as an open day for the Woburn Millinery Association to make it an event of more than passing interest. We wish to see every one of the 107 members and trust that each one will bring a friend.

Malaria in Horn Pond Water.

This seems to be the opinion of some of the doctors, but that it is not the case, we know Malaria exists to a great extent in our City, and many are suffering from it, which is entirely unnecessary. Dr. Gordon's Malaria Tablets will prevent and cure it very quickly. One tablet taken morning and night will surely prevent it, and taken according to the directions one box will cure the most severe case.

This is something entirely new. They are the outcome of the experience of the late Dr. Charles Gordon, who served in the English Army while stationed in India. It is sure in action; safe and pleasant to take; far superior to large doses of Quinine which do not cure, but only suppress the disease, only to return at a later period.

Price 50 cts. a box. For sale by ARTHUR WHITEHEAD and GORDON PARKER and by Druggists generally.

The Towanda Club.

So prosperous has been the Towanda Cycle Club of this city, during the last two or three years of its existence that the erection of a clubhouse has been under serious consideration for several months past and lately it has been rumored that one is to be built. The Club is strong in numbers and that character of its material, and as time goes by large accessions are made to the membership roll.

It seems however that the Club is not to build a headquarters, at least not this season. Instead, it has chosen a better course. It is reported on good authority that the Club has leased of Mr. E. W. W. and Edward F. Johnson the premises lately occupied by Dr. Sherman H. Sanborn and family, situated on the corner of which include all the rooms in the building above the drugstore of Mr. E. W. Brooks, 361 Main street, which will be rearranged and improved in a way that will make them the finest clubhouse in the country.

The plan is to convert the first story of the leased premises and the first story of the drugstore into reception and drawing rooms, the same to be elegantly furnished and supplied with the most modern conveniences; next above these will come the billiard hall, which also will be thoroughly equipped with the remaining story will be fitted and furnished for a suite of very handsome card rooms. The approach to the clubhouse from the sidewalk is to conform to the general plan of improvements. Mechanics are at work remodeling the interior of the premises—floors, ceilings, partitions, etc.—and the work of reconstruction will soon begin. The exact date on which the Club will take possession of the premises has not yet been fixed, but the work will be prosecuted as rapidly as possible.

How to Treat a Wife.

(From Pacific Health Journal.)

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not think of carrying to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender smile, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom. To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by A. W. Whitcher, druggist.

The Charity Ball.

No society affair held here this season has been more successful from every point of view than the Charity Ball given last Friday night under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, that has done and is doing much good in this community. The attendance was large, the galleries overflowing, which was exceedingly pleasing to the managers who had done so much for its success.

Calnan's Orchestra furnished a pleasing concert, and played very well for the dances which followed.

The grand march was led by Lawrence Rendle and his daughter, Amelia. Mr. Rendle was Floor Marshal. Alderman John O'Donnell was Floor Director, and to the grand march was accompanied by Miss Mary Clarke of Cambridge, John J. Mahon, the Assistant, followed with Miss Cecilia A. Rendle.

The Aids were Dr. Richard A. Walsh, Joseph A. Callahan, Theodore F. Haggerty, Dr. P. A. Caulfield, Thomas H. Mulhern, Irving Murray, Thomas H. Dolan, Jerome S. Carey, Charles E. Feeney, Thomas F. Shea, Joseph F. Larkin, Dr. William H. Kellner, P. H. Matthews, Edward L. Doyle, Dennis J. Begley, Daniel Hollands, Patrick F. McElenny, James B. Kelley, Daniel Mcweeney, Michael Maguire.

It was reported on Saturday that the Society garnered a fine lot of money from the ball, which will mean many people will be relieved.

Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liverman and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale by A. W. Whitcher, druggist."

The Electric Light matters are in statu quo ante.

Nearly all the policemen have had their heads changed.

Mrs. T. Marvin Parker's present address is Beverly, Mass.

The Highland Associates will give their first prize dance at Highland Hall on May 29.

Mr. Hanson, the jeweler, attended the Electrical Exhibition in New York last week.

Capt. J. M. Ellis left here last Tuesday evening for Northern Vermont on a business errand.

Mrs. D. Wilbur Brown gave a party to her Sunday School class last Tuesday evening. It was a delightful affair.

The Water Board and Cemetery Commissioners did not settle their controversy at the meeting last Tuesday evening.

The Swede Luthern Fair last week was a gratifying success. Rev. G. S. Swenson, the pastor, expressed his sincere thanks to those who contributed to the same in such generous measure.

Judge and Mrs. Converse went to Lowell Wednesday on the street cars. They said the ride was simply charming, made the morning finding of the orchards in full bloom all along the route.

Towanda Cycle Club of this city has accepted an invitation from Rector Suter to attend a special wheelmen's service at his church in Woburn at 9 o'clock on Friday morning and will appear in uniform.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life and Cure. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels, greatly invigorate the system. Regular use 25c. per box. Sold by Gordon Parker, druggist.

Woburn in 1852.

A CHRONICLE.

The record of 1852 is continued here from my first article. In April, a fire broke out in the city of Woburn for a week. Reports say it was an occasion of much interest. The Tremont Temple fire in Woburn, which occurred at this time, occasioned the loss of Dr. Clough's dental office in the city, and the loss of the city of Woburn, where he had been for some years a well-known resident. The establishment, in numbers and that character of its material, and as time goes by large accessions are made to the membership roll.

It seems however that the Club is not to build a headquarters, at least not this season. Instead, it has chosen a better course. It is reported on good authority that the Club has leased of Mr. E. W. A QUEER RELIGION.

A SECT OF PUGET SOUND INDIANS
KNOWN AS SHAKERS.

Their Comical but Unpleasant Ceremonies—They Deny Most of the Vices, but They Will Gamble—The Great Dikibatt, the Changer.

The North American Indian is nothing if not religious. Piety, it is true, is not a distinguishing characteristic, but religion, pure and simple, is as invariably an impulse of his nature as is the love of gambling. The original theology of the Indians of this region was peculiar. Their god, or rather their principal deity, was known as Dikibatt, the Changer. Many years ago this powerful being walked the earth and performed the most marvellous transformations. Even now his influence is manifested on occasions, and his reappearance in the flesh is confidently looked for by many. When the white missionaries first told the story of Christ, the natives were delighted.

"The Changer!" they cried. "We always knew of this. Have the Boston men also known the great Dikibatt, the Changer?" Nor was it possible for some time to dissociate the twofolds in the minds of the Indians.

They listened, open mouthed, to the story of the creation in six days, and then burst out with their own version; how Dikibatt made the moon one night, intending it to serve as the orb of day. But in the morning when it rose it was so hot that it made Puget sound boil, and all the salmon died. Dikibatt then made the sun, and commanded the moon to shine only at night, when it could do no damage. Some thousands of years after the creation Dikibatt revisited the earth to see how his enterprises were flourishing. He found one man whetting his knife on a stone.

"Oh, nothing in particular," was the reply.

Then said the god, "You think to deceive me, but I know well that you are preparing to kill Dikibatt."

Stupefied and aghast, he plunged it into the man's leg. As the wounded man sprang up and ran away he was changed into a deer, and the knife is still to be seen sticking in the legs of the deer. Under similar circumstances another man was changed into a beaver, the knife becoming a tail. A timid youth, seeing Dikibatt approach, ran away in great fear. As he fled wings came to him, and his cry turned to that of the mourning dove, "Hum-a, hum-a, hum-a!"

The worship of the sun was observed by most of the Puget sound tribes. It was conceded to be the creation of a greater god and was always called the younger brother of the moon, yet daily prayers were made to it, "Sun, take care of me all day," and food was offered it every noon.

An odd religious revival took place several years ago. A semicivilized Indian, whose Boston name was John Slocum, died or was supposed to die, and lay stark and motionless for three days. Then he sat up in his coffin and told a remarkable story of his adventures in the spirit world. Brought before the Sublime Being, the Great Spirit, the great papa said:

"Well, Slocum, what are we going to do about you? You've been a very bad Indian. You've rioted and drunk hooch, and you've cheated with the gambling sticks, and you haven't paid your debts. Now you may take your choice. You may go to the big fire the missionary told you about, or you may go back to the country and be a missionary yourself to your own people. Teach them the true religion, which you will learn up here, and make them righteous."

Slocum commenced his missionary labors at once and soon had a large following. The sect became known as the Shakers and spread so rapidly that in a few years it boasted nearly 800 members. At present there are as many as ten very respectable church buildings, all well attended.

The ceremonies consist of prayer and exhortation, followed by congregational shaking or trembling. Beginning rather slowly with a rhythmic oscillation of head and hands, the motion becomes more and more rapid until outlines are lost and the eye sees only a blur, like a revolving wheel. One rarely finds a Shaker meeting twice. The effect of that circle of fat, hysterical Siwash shaking like a set of bobbins in a cotton

WOODBROOK CEMETERY.

At a meeting of the Aldermen last week there was brought up for consideration a communication from the late Board of Cemetery Commissioners requesting authority to acquire additional land for the enlargement of the Salem street cemetery. The matter was discussed, and the remarks of Ald. Bryant were so sensible that we print the gist of them for the benefit of those who have given the question thought. Ald. Bryant said:

"The subject is one of grave importance, and should be treated with respect and care. When the cemetery was laid out 40 years ago a mistake was made, and a great majority of the people so regard it today. A location beyond the city limits should be secured if more land is wanted, as appears to be the case. The request of the Commissioners cannot now be carefully considered, as it is now before us for the first time. It had better be put upon the table for the future, so that no mistake will be made for the present or future generations."

The idea is gaining ground among intelligent people that Ald. Bryant was right when he said that a grave mistake was made when the present Woodbrook Cemetery was laid out, accepted and dedicated. True, the location was regarded at that time as sufficiently remote from the centre, but the population of Woburn was small 40 years ago, and the conditions were entirely dissimilar from those which now exist.

The fact remains in many minds that an error was made in the choice of the present site, and the question of rectifying it is what confronts and puzzles the present authorities. It is believed that a popular vote taken in this city today would show a large majority opposed to further additions to Woodbrook and in favor of a new location more remote from the business and thickly populated centre. It is only a question of a few years when necessity will compel its abandonment, and now that more land is asked for, the time seems opportune for taking the first step in a new departure.

A GOOD PULL.

Senator Cook of Milford, Editor of the Journal of that town, was mainly instrumental in securing the passage of the newspaper libel bill through the Senate last week. The measure does not go far enough by any means, but it is an improvement on the present libel laws of the State, and the crafty Senator Cook a vote of thanks for his good office in its behalf.

It is not easy to understand why the bill has met with such persistent opposition from the Legislature, when it is a well known fact that very few of the members would ever have seen the inside of the State House without the help of the newspapers.

Considerable curiosity and some anxiety are felt concerning the composition of the Board of License Commissioners next year. Commissioner Munroe's term will expire early in June and his successor is a matter of lively speculation. Several gentlemen, it is understood, stand ready to sacrifice private interests to the public good and take his place. Some people think Mr. William C. Kenney will be asked to fill the vacancy, but it is only a surmise, for the Mayor is not talking on the subject very much just now. It is conceded on all sides that Mr. Munroe has made a good member of the Board, and no reason, unless it be one of local politics, is readily seen why he should not be reappointed. If any reliance can be placed on rumors, there is a large sized "cat under the meal" which may, in a certain contingency, work a radical change in the complexion of the Commission, but the JOURNAL takes but little stock in the stories afloat, and therefore prefers not to discuss them at this time.

The Boston Globe's Woburn correspondent has found out that the Republicans in this city have, after considerable casting about, selected ex-Representative George E. Fowle for Mayor this fall, not however without misgivings as to their ability to defeat Mayor Allen for a third term. He also thinks the fight will be a triangular one. It is too early to prognosticate the action of the Republicans as to the Mayoralty, or the Democrats; but it can be safely said that Mr. Fowle would make a strong and popular candidate. It is equally true that Mayor Allen has a large share of the working-men on his side.

A fine picture of a country scene, produced by Mr. Charles H. Taylor, now on exhibition at a store in this city, contains the figure of an angler with rod and line, in graceful pose, with an old mill in the background, a running stream shaded by overhanging trees, rocks, and green banks; but the main object of this item is to find out, if possible, just how that angler managed to get such a beautiful bend, or curve, to his fishing rod, or precisely the right moment for the best artistic effect in Mr. Taylor's picture? Don't fail to answer at once. Perhaps a gentleman by the name of Charles E. Sutherland might shed some light on the subject.

Deprived by lack of reasonable notice of the privilege of attending the meeting of the merchants, reported in this issue of the JOURNAL, and of informing the same of the condition of his millinery business on Saturday evenings, Mr. Amos Cummings states in another column that necessity compels him to open his store at 6.30 Saturday evening and keep open until the customary closing hour. He regrets to be obliged to do this, because he is loyal to the G. A. R. to Memorial Day, and he would, of course, be very glad to join with his fellow merchants in keeping closed doors all day. Under the circumstance he will probably be excused for the course which necessity compels him to take.

The Woburn Benefit Association held their annual meeting last Monday evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Winthrop Hammond presided at the meeting which was well attended. Its objects are worthy of the sympathy and support of the public. President, Capt. John P. Samson, Andrew R. Lincoln, Francis M. Pushee. The following gentlemen were chosen a Committee to examine similar work elsewhere and report next fall: Capt. J. P. Crane, Rev. A. M. Osgood, Thomas D. Hevey. The Association has been in existence but a short time, but great benefits to the poor are expected from it.

Mr. James M. Kimball came up from Portsmouth, N. H., the other day and has since been visiting with his family and friends here. He was made very welcome during his stay in this city. Mr. Kimball is a musician of merit—he came from a musical family—and will be wanted in these parts this summer.

There are good reasons for the belief that the piano recital given by Miss Mertena Bancroft's pupils at Music Hall last evening fully met the expectations of the audience, for that is what they never fail to do. Three new 10-bench, 50-passenger cars have been put on the East Middlesex Division of the Lynn & Boston, two of which came yesterday. Mr. F. S. Hunnewell, Division Superintendent, says the cars are first-class in every particular. They were built by the Newburyport Car Co., and came from the shops at Newburyport early this week. Every modern improvement has been adopted in their construction—glass fronts, patent tracks, window shades, and everything of the kind. This shows that the Company are using Woburn in good style. Div. Supt. Hunnewell says it is hard to tell when track and roadbed repairs will begin. In a few days the Stoneham authorities will start work on the town's sewer system and it is probable the streets over which his line runs will be dug up all summer. And so it goes.

There was quite an episode at Church Ave. railroad crossing at 8.30 Wednesday morning. While a van was being loaded with Mr. DeLoria's household effects at Mr. Simonds's, a couple of passing trains and ran away. Turning a sharp corner on the Avenue some of the goods—four, crockery, etc.—were thrown from the van and destroyed. The horse ran into and broke to pieces the west gate, crossed the tracks, ruined the east gate, and was then stopped by Mr. F. H. Lewis et al. The two gates are operated simultaneously by a crank which Mr. Waterman Brown mans. He is trying to raise the east gate to get the animal away. Lewis et al. got out a cog in the machinery which suddenly set the crank into violent motion and hitting Mr. Brown landed him about 10 feet away in the middle of the street. He was stunned and considerably hurt, but soon revived. Station Agent Jenkins was quickly at the scene of the disaster and soon had things righted. It was a lively incident.

Dr. Lawton, ophthalmic specialist, will be at Deans' jewelry store, Thursday, June 4, 1896.

Vigorous Protest.

The prize fight, called by its managers a boxing match, which is to come off at the Rink tonight, has brought out vigorous protests from various societies and many of the best people in this city. The community, or the better part, are fully aroused to the indignity of the thing and the importance of a stop being put to it before going farther, and appeals have been made to the authorities to prevent the disgrace with which we are threatened. So far, these appeals seem to have been fruitless, and theft will probably go on.

Church and temperance people have laid the case before the authorities and implored them to act at once and save the city from the hands of the enemy, and what more can they do? Every decent person knows that a prize fight at the Rink tonight will be a lasting disgrace to the town.

The fight will come off, and if respectable citizens would learn something of its character and that of its patrons they should go to the station this evening and see the special train which would the Boston contingent.

Last Wednesday evening a special meeting of the Aldermen was held to see if something could not be done to prevent the fight. It was hoped that there was decency enough in Board to secure a revocation of the license, but there was not. Three voted for the proposition to revoke, and four against it. Here is an object lesson—look at the names! Mark carefully the eyes and nose.

For revoking the license: BRYANT, BROWN, MARION.

Against revocation: O'Donnell, Meehan, McCarthy, Hickey.

Talks the story!

Ald. Bryant offered the order to revoke. He said the situation was a grave one, and he hoped disgrace would not fall upon the city. The license was secured by misrepresentation, which should be revoked.

Alderman O'Donnell said that no disgrace could come upon the city, as the bout would be conducted on right principles. He knew the men forming the Association, and they had acted in good faith. It was too late to make a protest; the Club had already expended $5000 in arranging the event. If the affair is not satisfactory, he would hereafter refuse them a license. He would take the responsibility.

The following is the pith of a speech made by Mayor Allen to the Board:

"A great many persons representing all conditions in life and all denominations, have pleaded with me to have the license for the sparring exhibition revoked. In February last a license was granted the Woburn Athletic Club for exhibitions at its hall on Broad St. Later the Board transferred the license to the Skating Academy."

"The exhibition advertised for Friday night is to be between professionals of national reputation. I believe it is not intended to be in the interest of honest sport; the men behind it are not Woburn men, but outsiders, who would realize the largest profit, and Woburn is used as a place only. The reproach, if any comes, will be on the Aldermen, and Woburn would suffer. I would not object to this if it was the ordinary sparring exhibition, but it is not, and betting would follow. Whatever the persons of respect of members, they must do their duty."

Important to Ladies.

Mrs. Dr. Frances H. Drew, a lady physician of eighteen years experience and a national reputation as a skilled specialist on diseases of women, will give a Free Illustrated Lecture to ladies only, June 3, 1896, at 7.45 o'clock. Subject: The Woman of Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow.

A valuable medical book (containing 56 pages) entitled "A Practical Treatise on the Disease of Women," will be given ENTIRELY FREE to every lady who attends this lecture.

Three new 10-bench, 50-passenger cars have been put on the East Middlesex Division of the Lynn & Boston, two of which came yesterday. Mr. F. S. Hunnewell, Division Superintendent, says the cars are first-class in every particular. They were built by the Newburyport Car Co., and came from the shops at Newburyport early this week. Every modern improvement has been adopted in their construction—glass fronts, patent tracks, window shades, and everything of the kind. This shows that the Company are using Woburn in good style. Div. Supt. Hunnewell says it is hard to tell when track and roadbed repairs will begin. A FAD

Is a popular craze. There are fads and fads. Some are sensible. Some are not. With the latter class we have nothing to do. We wish to call your attention to SHIRT WAISTS. What so bright, so chic, so piquant, so stylish, so cool, so comfortable, so reasonable as a pretty, well-made, well-finished Shirt Waist? They can be worn with any skirt, hence their all around usefulness. The season's patterns are bewilderingly beautiful and strikingly stylish. We have them in attractive Percales of many colors and patterns, either plaited or gathered. The price? From 50c. to $1.25. This is a fad for summer thought.

In the Schools Today.

In conformity with the laws the public schools in this city are today holding Memorial exercises, directed by the teachers, and listened to and viewed by many people. The G. A. R. Post detailed members of their Order to deliver addresses, and these constitute no insignificant part of the numerous exercises. Some of the speakers were named in the JOURNAL last week and the list has, we learn, been increased by the addition of several others. These speakers are Veterans and while our paper is being printed, perhaps, they are instilling the spirit and principles of liberty and patriotism into the hearts of their young listeners by the recital of deeds done on the battlefields of the South in the days of 1861-5, by explaining the purposes of those battles, by stories of the great war, and by what it cost the Nation in blood and treasure. These stories cannot be told too often to the rising generations, for, coming from the lips of actors in the great struggle, they carry the impression they leave on the young and plant mind must be deeper and more lasting for that reason.

The programs today do not differ greatly from those of former years. There are literary exercises by the pupils, music and decorations, all in keeping with the character of the occasion so patriotically observed.

Having removed my residence to 113 Pleasant st., my office hours at 379 Main street will be 8.30 a. m. to 12 m., 1 to 5 p. m.; evenings by appointment only. Dr. S. H. Sanborn.

City Government.

ALDERMEN.

The Board held a meeting on Thursday evening, May 21. Orders passed for printing 2000 copies city reports for 1895, and 200 of Rules and organization, $2,000 transferred from Miscellaneous to Health, $2,000 from Miscellaneous to Public Property. Junk license $10.00—20 more seats for the Common.

Petitions: Geo. E. Hanson and others for sidewalk on Middle and Washington streets, and transfer of $2,000 from Miscellaneous to Highways, concurred in.—Joseph H. Parker chosen Surveyor of the City. Ordinance of increase of salaries of City Solicitor and City Physician, failed of passage. Nomination of Elmore A. Pierce for City Commissioner confirmed.—M. W. Carroll elected Water Commissioner in non-concurrence.

A communication from last year's Cemetery Commission requesting authority to take more land for cemetery purposes was laid on the table. The Board submitted a report on monuments remarks on the subject, and Ald. Hickey said he knew that public sentiment was against further additions being made to Woodbrook Cemetery.—Highway Committee reported in expedient to widen Washington and Cedar streets.

COMMON COUNCIL.

This branch of the City Government held a special meeting on Friday evening, May 22.

The new law permitting cities to appropriate money for watering streets was adopted.—Elmore A. Pierce was unanimously confirmed as Park Commissioner.—The order for widening Washington street was tabled. Several orders were concurred in, viz: appropriating $100 for marking grade of Revolutionary Soldiers, transferring $3,000 from Miscellaneous Dept. to Public Property, and $2,000 to Board of Police, for considerable sharp talk, was tabled.—The following were appointed a committee to investigate the matter of widening Washington street: Councilmen Breslin, Vynman, Codd and Garity, H. N. Conn.—The Boston Globe's flag rock Park scheme got a little more.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal Panacea for Coughs, Colds and Lung Complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other remedies."—Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 25 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief, as Dr. King's New Discovery. Try this Ideal Cough Remedy, and you will be free at Gordon Parker's Drug Store."

A Visitor.

Dr. Lamson Allen of Worcester, son of Mr. L. Houghton Allen, and lady, came here last Saturday to Central Square to see old acquaintances, from whom, at the church on Sunday, they received an invitation. It was the first time Dr. Allen had been inside of the First Congregational church for 13 years, and the meeting was highly enjoyed by all, as well as Mrs. Allen. This lady was the daughter of Mr. James Wymann of Arlington, and a cousin of Mrs. Florence Crosby of Court street. They met many friends while in this city who gave them a cordial welcome.

On Monday forenoon the JOURNAL was favored with a call from Dr. Allen. He informed us that he was presently located at Worcester and has no reason to complain of professional practice there. He was 8 years at Southbridge prior to settling at Worcester.

Dr. Allen is "Woburn Boy." He graduated from the Classical Department of the High School in Class '73, from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1874, and subsequently graduated from a Medical School with parchments that authorized him to practice as a "Shingle" with M. D. at the end of his name.

Referring to the files of the JOURNAL we found that some of those who graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1874, with Lamson Allen, were Fred J. Brown, Jessie A. Dimick, Nathan Wymann, Amanda Severance, Alfred C. Bailey, Annie F. Walker, Isabel F. Blake, Eliza A. Richardson, and others. The JOURNAL subcommittee, in full account of the graduating exercises and several of the essays and declamations. C. H. Russell and Lamson Allen delivered the Salutatory. Gardner W. Bailey gave the Salutatory. Mary A. Richardson, the Chronicler, Ada Bailey, the Prophetess, and Jessie A. Dimick, the Vala-dictory. Woburn Quincent Club furnished music for the occasion.

Dr. Allen has been but little in Woburn since 1873, and his visits have been rather "few and far between." He and Mrs. Allen were here for the first time Monday afternoon, and returned to Worcester on Tuesday.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every man must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. For sale by A. W. Whitcher, druggist.

Commendable.

When Col. Charles P. Woodward, President of the Woburn Reading Railroad Company, went up to Reading one day last week to see how the construction was getting on, he was greeted by 125 Italians at work there with picks and spades. This was a medicine that every family should be provided with. For sale by A. W. Whitcher, druggist.

When Col. Woodward came before the people as a candidate for the State Senate next fall this episode will not hurt him any in Woburn.

Woburn in 1853.

A CHRONICLE.

The two previous articles related to the period from 1851 to 1853, the present article chronicles the prominent events in Woburn during the year 1853. Beginning with the first number for the year the editorial department of the JOURNAL is assigned to Mr. Fowle, Senior, father of the brothers Fowle, one of whom has been the Editor and the other a book-binder. The first number of the JOURNAL was published. The oldest Mr. Fowle was a person who had many reminiscences of the period of 1853. He had traveled extensively in this country, had had a varied experience in the youth, knew a great many of the worthies who flourished at the beginning of the present century. Hence his recollections are incorporated in his editorials are intensely interesting and even valuable. The items of news, however, relating to the year 1853, are of minor number and importance, and the paper was not so well supplied with news as newspapers. A valuable weekly summary of news of general character is kept up. Nations exercise proper attention and the communications of correspondents are continued.

In February 1853, John Stewart, 18 years old, died of the injuries he received from falling into a vat of hot bark liquid at Cummings tannery, on the 8th of December previous. Seventy of his fellow workmen followed his remains to the grave. As his father was a physician I had the opportunity of seeing this unfortunate man as he lay on the floor, and I can say that such an event, a horse belonging to J. S. Ellis, was killed by the express train, and the railroad track was met by the express train and killed. The sleigh attached to the horse was thrown from the track.

In January 1853, a drawing of Woburn Center by Marshall M. Tild was exhibited at Fowle's bookstore.

In February, Rev. Joseph P. Tucker was installed pastor of the Baptist church. In April, the clothing store of Philip Treadwell was sold to the value of $1,000. In the same month John M. Treadwell was ordained pastor of the Unitarian Church and Charles F. Williams, formerly of Woburn, died in California.

In May, an omnibus commenced running between the railroad depot and the city. A new meeting house for the religious societies for tract distribution began this month. The Phoenix at this time was in process of construction. May training camp in citizens' dress because their uniforms were in process of renovation. An excursion to Quincy by the omnibus was made. The company was led by Mr. C. M. Strout. The company was a pleasant success, and the excursion was a most successful one. The company was a pleasant success, and the excursion was a most successful one.

The Woburn Bank was organized June 4, 1853. On July 4, was an unusual display of fireworks. The cause of the burning of the barn of William A. Tuffs, which occurred just before the national anniversary.

The names of the new Woburn fire department were announced for July 2, 1853. There were three companies, with Jacob Webster as Chief. The names of the companies were: No. 1, motto, "Our pleasure is where duty calls." No. 2, motto, "We are ready." No. 3, motto, "We are ready." No. 4, motto, "We are ready." The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1896.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The usual Memorial customs were observed here last Saturday. Every thing passed off admirably and a large number witnessed the ceremonies with interest. The weather was ideal, for which everybody was thankful.

Early in the morning Burbank Post, 33, G. A. R., with the Phalanx, Charles Bowers Winn Camp of Sons of Veterans, and the High School Battalion, headed by the National Band, marched to the headquarters of Woburn Post, 161, G. A. R., and received that Post. Thence the procession proceeded to Woodbrook Cemetery where the graves of dead comrades were decorated with flowers, and customary rites were performed. A detachment of Post 33 then visited Calvary Cemetery at East Woburn and performed the sad duty there. At the same time 14 members of the Sons of Veterans went to Burlington and decorated the graves of the soldiers in that town.

At 2 o'clock, P. M., both Posts assembled at the City Government building on the Common, where Rev. H. C. Parker made a prayer and the Band played appropriate pieces.

At the close of these ceremonies the public went to Lyceum Hall where a stirring oration was delivered by Comrade E. B. Fairchild after a patriotic address by Commander Fletcher. There was a large attendance at the Hall.

Post banquets followed the exercises at the Hall, the City Government being the guests of Post 33, and with the Memorial Day exercises closed. They were witnessed by many out of town people, as well as our own.

Hon. Llewellyn Powers of Aroostook county is the Republican candidate for Governor of Maine. Not many years ago he was a barefooted boy in Pittsfield, Maine, where his parents had a hard scratch to raise a lot of boys, all of whom have since become leading citizens of the Pine Tree State, the present gubernatorial candidate having served honorably in Congress from the 4th District.

Gov. Wolcott is entitled to credit for his veto of Whitney's mammoth gas scheme which was passed by the Legislature. It was an outrageous piece of work, to accomplish which undue influences, no doubt, were brought to bear on the members, and the Governor did just right to put a stop to it.

The story that the Vice-Presidency has been offered to Senator Lodge is totally without foundation. Everyone knows he would not entertain such a proposition for a moment, and besides, Massachusetts would not consent to it, for she wants him to stay right where he now is.

The silverites will control the Chicago convention, a silver platform will be adopted and candidate chosen, but there will be no bolt—this has been decided on in the upper councils of the party. Everything will be lovely.

If nothing happens Congress will adjourn next Monday. There comes a long vacation and a Presidential campaign.

Cambridge has been holding a jubilation this week over its 50th birthday as a city. The celebration was carried out on a grand scale.

The frame of Mr. J. R. Ramsdell's fine house on Canal st. is up and the carpenters are busy at work on it.

It was stated at a meeting of one of the City Boards the other night that the Woburn Athletic Club is no more.

It is nearly vacation time again. In a month people will be betaking themselves to the seaside and mountains.

Drop a postal today to Hammond & Son for their carrier to call for your next laundry bundle.

Dr. Lawton, ophthalmic specialist, will be at Deans' jewelry store, Thursday, June 18, 1896.

The alarm from box 64 at 12.40 P. M., Tuesday, was for a fire in a hotel near the crossing on Winn street.

Copeland & Bowser keep the dress goods which suit the ladies of this city, and sell them. It is a good store to trade at.

We direct attention to the ad "Employment Wanted" in this paper. We have reason to think it is an honest business.

See Richardson's "ad" about the big line of cotton hose they closed out and are offering at about half the regular price.

No cycle club in the country will have a better or pleasanter home than the Towanda when their new quarters are completed.

Capt. J. M. Ellis returned from his northern trip several days ago, and Mr. G. F. J. discovered him on the street last Tuesday.

The Employment Office of Mrs. Jennings in the Mechanics Building is well patronized these times. It is the "Old Reliable."

Nothing is heard in this community respecting a celebration here next 4th of July. It is not at all probable that there will be one.

Mr. William Kimball of Wilton, N. H., once a resident of Woburn, has been looking over his old stamping ground here this week.

Since June came in nobody ever experienced such perfectly charming weather. It has been simply delicious all the time, and such air!

Scarcely any cases of intoxication were seen in this city on Memorial Day. Everybody kept sober and conducted themselves decently.

We trust that everybody will bear in mind the Lawn Party to be given by the Y. P. S. C. E. at the Congregational church this evening.

The places in this city where bicycles are not kept on sale are exceptions to the general rule, and the name of the riders is Legion.

Col. A. L. Richardson is getting things snug and tidy for his London visit with the Ancients. He anticipates it with emotions of pleasure.

Mr. Daniel J. McSweeney, for the past 10 years head clerk for Mr. Amos Cummings, will be pleased to see his old friends at McGrath's big store.

Charles R. Rosenquist, 36 Green st., Woburn, sells New Sewing Machines for $10.00 and up. Any first class make for $30.00. Call or write.—If.

Mr. Daniel N. Hood of Chelsea, has been engaged by the Orthodox Church Music Committee as organist. He has the reputation of being a good one.

The factories of Russell's Counter Company fired up again Wednesday after a suspension of operations for a few days for repairs and get their bearings.

Mr. L. Waldo Thompson is banking on the nomination of Reed for President at the St. Louis convention. New England Republicans hope he is a true prophet.

C. C. Stone & Co. conduct a neat, nice, fine meat and vegetable market, and all singular the goods that go with it. They have a good trade too.

Dea. J. G. Pollard has been quite ill of rheumatism for a couple of months past, but is now much better, and is circulating around among his friends once more.

A recital by the pupils of Daude's School of Music, 136 Boylston st., Boston, will be given next Saturday evening, June 6. It will be a musical treat.

The Masons had a supper Wednesday evening, served by Belcher, which was enjoyed by a large company. The Masons love good living and know where to find it.

People are asking if it is not nearly time to open the band concerts season. They seem to think that life would not be worth living without the weekly concerts.

There is not much to encourage the authorities to try to make good roads, for no money is a piece completed than it is dug up again for some purpose or other.

When it comes to closing business places on special public occasions our people are far from a unit. Good resolutions are adopted and then each one does as he pleases.

Rev. and Mrs. D. Seudder are attending the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration this week. They are warm friends and earnest advocates of the cause.

Mayor Allen delivered an eloquent and patriotic Memorial Day oration at Arlington Saturday evening. It was highly spoken of. Mrs. Allen and sister were present.

There has lately been a great fall in the charges for bicycles. If they keep on in that way, pretty soon the poorest of us will be able to buy a mount and cease going afoot.

Mr. A. N. Webster, our dry goods merchant, spent a delightful season last Saturday with a fishing party off Marblehead. It was a pleasant company and the fish bit well.

Almost every day Mr. S. B. Goddard casts wistful eye towards the brooks and streams of Maine where the trout flourishes in all his glory, but business holds him back. However, another day is coming.

Miss E. A. T. Kendall, cousin of Mr. William T. Kendall, has returned to her old home at Fitchburg. She has been at South Boston all winter and returns on account of sickness in the family at Fitchburg.

If persistent and judicious advertising can bring business, Hammond & Son will get it. They are the largest advertisers in this city; they make it pay; other merchants would do well to follow their example.

William Edward Doyle, compounder of drugs and medicines at Higley's drugstore, is Treasurer of Co. G (Mechanic Phalanx), Mass. Vol. M., and all financial business of the Company will be promptly attended to by him.

We met Mr. Arthur A. Fowle, Managing Editor of the Boston Globe, on Main st., Tuesday morning just as he was starting with his family for their summer home at Marblehead Neck. They have a delightful place down there and enjoy it.

The Public Library lawn never made a handsomer appearance than at the present time. Janitor Francis is an expert at producing the finest of greenward. He does it by industry, perseverance, and a plenty of Horn Pond water.

Some of the members of the City Council are moving for a portable stonehenge. The work is now done by Powderhouse Hill, and some of them think this necessitates hauling the product too far to get it on the roads. Perhaps so.

Mr. Samuel Higley, druggist, goes to West Medford store every day and leaves his Woburn one in the hands of Mr. W. E. Doyle, who is perfectly competent to run it. The West Medford store is doing a first-class business.

Henry D. Casey, 198 Dartmouth st., Boston, advertises in this issue of the JOURNAL an oil painting representing Woburn scenery, done by a famous American artist, for sale at a moderate price. The picture was awarded a prize at the Mechanics Fair.

The residents of Bow st. and Montvale ave. are overjoyed with the news that the Woburn & Reading Street Railroad will be in running order by one week from tomorrow, June 13. The price of horses will be low on those thoroughfares after that.

Mr. H. Lyman Ames, who died last Monday night after a short illness, was one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of Woburn. He had many relatives in the city and a host of friends who deeply lament his sudden and unexpected demise.

The Scandinavian Lutheran church in this city, Rev. Gustaf Swenson pastor, are raising subscriptions to enable them to purchase a site for a meetinghouse. Up to date they have met with strong encouragement and secured a handsome subscription.

When a reliable lumber dealer says business is good with him it is a good sign for the town; it means that building is going on. That was what Mr. E. Gerry Barker, President of the Barker Lumber Company, said to a JOURNAL man last Wednesday morning.

Mr. Waldo E. Buck has moved to Worcester where headquarters of the insurance company of which he has lately been appointed General Manager are located. A good deal of regret is expressed over his leaving this city for he is a clean man and an upright citizen.

The Globe announces with a considerable flourish of trumpets that an iron roof is to be erected over the Woburn reservoir. The object is to keep the water cool and discourage the growth of vegetation. We do not know where authority for the statement came from.

There is some talk of disbanding the Chelsea High School Battalion. There is but little esprit de corps left among the young soldiers and at a meeting of the School Board last week it was suggested that the Battalion had outlived its usefulness and had better go out of existence.

On account of the condition of the grounds last Sunday which were too wet for the parade "Children's Day" at St. Charles Church was postponed until next Sunday when, if weather and greenward are in good condition, there will take place a notable celebration of the day.

The Ladies' Industrial Society connected with the Baptist Church will hold a Sale and Entertainment Thursday evening, June 11. Ice cream and cake for sale. Music furnished by Sawyer's Orchestra, Miss Lincoln and Mr. Morrill. Entertainment commences at 8. Admission 10c.

Mr. J. H. Nason, senior partner of Nason & Durgin's Boston Excursion Company, is enjoying a vacation just now. During June the excursion business is dull, and the firm do not attempt to do much until July.

There is a very best of satisfaction and enjoy a handsome patronage.

Surgeon Frank W. Graves of this city attended the annual meeting, election, sermon, and dinner of the Ancient and honorable Artillery Company in Boston last Monday and occupied his official position in the parade. Rev. A. A. Berle, the clerical "high roller," preached the sermon.

Skipper Durward don't really know about the Mary Anna going back again this year. It seems they have not fully forgotten about the man's falling off T wharf, and the memory of that narrow escape from perhaps a fatal disaster is acting on their minds in the nature of a mild deterrent.

The recent demolition of certain meetinghouse horse sheds in this city might serve as a pointer to a certain other church. To an entirely disinterested person it looks as though horse sheds in the rear or at the side of church edifices in this city might properly be included in the order of Mossbacks.

Among the "Notes" in the Weekly Calendar of the First Congregational church, May 31, speaking of Mr. F. H. Lewis, late organist there, we find this handsome compliment: "Mr. Lewis's services as Organist and Director have given great satisfaction and his departure is much regretted."

Our old friend and fellow-citizen, Thomas H. Hill, Esq., for many years Clerk of the Board of Selectmen here, delivered the Memorial Day oration at South Boston, Tenn., last Saturday, and his son, W. C. Hill, directed the music and presided at the organ on the occasion. Thomas remembers his War days.

Fowle's brook was scientifically whipped for trout last Saturday by Lawyer Curran and Water Commissioner Parker and his son. It didn't take an ox team to bring back the spoils, but it was no fault of theirs, for they fished heroically, and there was no lack of accessories. It is surmised that they forgot to spit on the bait.

From inquiries made of manufacturers we conclude that little or no improvement has lately been experienced in the leather making business here, and the prospect is flattering for an early change. Many tanners and curriers are still out of work, the proprietors are going slow, and there is really no money in sight from the business.

The Hammond & Son's Laundry Car is a novelty, to say the least. Mounted on a tricycle is a neat, appropriately lettered, and quite ornamental chest, in which is deposited the clothes to be delivered and received, the machine being propelled at a good rate of speed by manpower located in front of the car.

From Capt. E. C. Leathe's printed schedule we find that Towanda Club will make the following June runs: June 7 to No. Natiek; dinner at Bailey's. Club picture will be taken before the start.

Mr. Waldo E. Buck has moved to Worcester where headquarters of the insurance company of which he has lately been appointed General Manager are located. A good deal of regret is expressed over his leaving this city for he is a clean man and an upright citizen.

The Globe announces with a considerable flourish of trumpets that an iron roof is to be erected over the Woburn reservoir. The object is to keep the water cool and discourage the growth of vegetation. We do not know where authority for the statement came from.

There is some talk of disbanding the Chelsea High School Battalion. There is but little esprit de corps left among the young soldiers and at a meeting of the School Board last week it was suggested that the Battalion had outlived its usefulness and had better go out of existence.

On account of the condition of the grounds last Sunday which were too wet for the parade "Children's Day" at St. Charles Church was postponed until next Sunday when, if weather and greenward are in good condition, there will take place a notable celebration of the day.

The Ladies' Industrial Society connected with the Baptist Church will hold a Sale and Entertainment Thursday evening, June 11. Ice cream and cake for sale. Music furnished by Sawyer's Orchestra, Miss Lincoln and Mr. Morrill. Entertainment commences at 8. Admission 10c.

Mr. J. H. Nason, senior partner of Nason & Durgin's Boston Excursion Company, is enjoying a vacation just now. During June the excursion business is dull, and the firm do not attempt to do much until July.

There is a very best of satisfaction and enjoy a handsome patronage.

Surgeon Frank W. Graves of this city attended the annual meeting, election, sermon, and dinner of the Ancient and honorable Artillery Company in Boston last Monday and occupied his official position in the parade. Rev. A. A. Berle, the clerical "high roller," preached the sermon.

Skipper Durward don't really know about the Mary Anna going back again this year. It seems they have not fully forgotten about the man's falling off T wharf, and the memory of that narrow escape from perhaps a fatal disaster is acting on their minds in the nature of a mild deterrent.

The recent demolition of certain meetinghouse horse sheds in this city might serve as a pointer to a certain other church. To an entirely disinterested person it looks as though horse sheds in the rear or at the side of church edifices in this city might properly be included in the order of Mossbacks.

Among the "Notes" in the Weekly Calendar of the First Congregational church, May 31, speaking of Mr. F. H. Lewis, late organist there, we find this handsome compliment: "Mr. Lewis's services as Organist and Director have given great satisfaction and his departure is much regretted."

The 5th Mass. Vol. Regt. Association will hold their 35th reunion at Dennis, Cape Cod, on June 24. There are many members in this city.

We had a pleasant call from Uncle Harrison Bates yesterday morning. He thinks he will make a flying visit to his old home, Bangor, Maine, one of these days.

The increasing laundry business done by Hammond & Son since assembling the agency of the Cambridge laundry has necessitated the adoption of some method for delivery of bundles.

The new cycle carrier seen on our streets this week just fills the requirement. If you wish to see this novelty stop at your door, drop a postal to Hammond & Son, for them to send for your next laundry bundle.

The Malden Cemetery Commissioners are confronted with the perplexing question of more land or a new cemetery, the same as here in Woburn, and have decided against more land. It is probable that our Commissioners will do the same. The old first burying-ground in this city, consecrated in 1642, should be preserved for its historic value; but no such value attaches to the second, or Montvale ave., one, nor the Woodbrook, and there is no reason why their use should not be abandoned for one more remote from the business centre. At all events, that is the way the question is being treated elsewhere.

Mr. Edgar B. Thompson of Chicago is visiting his father, Leonard Thompson, Esq., Mr. Waldo Thompson, Esq., Mrs. Shaw, and other relatives in this city. He got here last Sunday and Mr. W. L. does not know just when he will return. He has been in the mechanical engineering department of Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company at Chicago quite a number of years and is an expert in his line of work. We remember that the Company sent him to London some years ago as a representative in a great international convention of mechanical engineers. Mr. Thompson will be likely to put himself outside of a few claims before he leaves N. E.

The main question is, what, if anything, is going to be done to put the Woburn Electric Light plant into proper shape for turning out good work. Everyone admits that is a valuable piece of property and deserves to be managed better than it has been. The Company might easily retain their Winchester, Stoneham and Woburn patronage by putting the plant into the best of working order and dealing justly by the people; but if it continues to go on as at present we don't know what will become of it.

Supt. Woodward of the Woburn & Reading Street Railroad was in this city Wednesday looking after the interests of his line. We did not see him, but understood that he said the road would be completed and in running order in about a week. It has been said that this excellent company of which Col. Woodward is Manager propose to put in a power plant with which to operate the different lines, and some of our people hope they may decide on Woburn for its location. We hope so too.

The Men's League connected with the First Congregational church will give a Ladies' Night in the parlors and vestries of the church on Thursday evening, June 11. A reception will be held at 6.30, and a supper served at 7. The honored guests of the League will be Samuel J. Elder, Esq., of Winchester and Boston; William B. de las Casas, Esq., of Malden; and Rev. A. A. Berle, Brighton District, Boston. Tickets may be obtained of George W. Norris, Esq., but not later than June 9. The League officers and managers say the affair will be one of note.

Mr. Belcher, the famous Woburn caterer, is the most popular purveyor in these parts and finds full employment in serving societies and families with the fat of the land, perfectly cooked and handsomely served. The "occupation" of foreign caterers "is gone," so far as Woburn is concerned. Belcher has

Spring Spring Spring

Is the season for purifying, cleansing, and renewing. The accumulations of waste everywhere are being removed. Winter's grime, broken and on all sides are indications of nature's returning life, renewed force, and awakening power.

Spring Spring Spring

Is the time for purifying the blood, cleansing the system and renewing the physical powers. Owing to close confinement, diminished perspiration and other causes, in the winter, impurities have not passed out of the system as they should but have accumulated in the blood.

Spring Spring Spring

Is therefore the best time to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, because the system is now open to the influence of medicine. That Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier and Spring medicine is proved by its wonderful cures. A course of Hood's Sarsaparilla now may prevent great suffering later on.

Rare Find.

Abram English Brown of Bedford, a well-known and popular author, whose latest publication, "Beneath Old Roofs," was reviewed in the JOURNAL of May 22, has recently discovered among a lot of ancient papers at his Bedford home a deed in the handwriting of Capt. Edward Johnson, one of the founders of Woburn, and a conspicuous personage in Colonial times, of date 1655, which antedates any deed of his in the possession of our Public Library. The document was indeed a rare and valuable find.

The Public Library is now the fortunate possessor of this deed, the Trustees, by Librarian Cutter, having purchased the same of Mr. Brown, and it is needless to say that it will be carefully kept and preserved.

Some of the old papers found by the author of "Beneath Old Roofs" were purchased by the Town of Burlington, and the deed related to ancient business transactions in that part of Woburn.

If it required an annual outlay of $100.00 to insure a family against any serious consequences from an attack of bowel complaint during the year there are many who would feel it their duty to pay it; that they could not afford to risk their lives and those of their family for such an amount. Any one can get this insurance for 25 cents, can be the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of bowel complaint before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. One or two doses of this remedy will cure any ordinary case. It never fails. Can you afford to take the risk for a small amount? For sale by A. W. Whitteker, druggist.

A Change.

I met Nichols, the watchmaker, Wednesday morning on the street and asked him how the Populists of Woburn were getting on with their campaign. He asked me what the trouble was, and he said he was too confused to answer; but finally I found the perplexity to be this: The Democrats had been trying all the night before to show him by a paper called "Democratic Notes" that Mr. Kinley was a soft money man and his record as they had it in the paper was a record for soft money. The Populists came into the office and to his astonishment Harry wasn't in a little bit, and he asked me to please let up on the only sound money party, and the next day it is the only 1,000 to 1 Free Silver party, and the Populists have disappeared, what do you suppose will happen next, Mr. Hobbs? Oh dear!—Good Day.

We have just closed out a large line of cotton hosiery from a leading mill at prices that we did not expect would be accepted. The goods are here and there are several grades and some very fine numbers among the lot. We have had gone and we will please let up on the whole lot and it will pay to buy now all you will want for a year. Come in and look the line over. Richardson's, 111 Main

FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1896.

INDIGNATION MEETING.

Promptly, at the request of a committee of citizens—named in the JOURNAL last week—Mayor Allen called a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen to be held in their Chamber at 8 o'clock last Saturday evening, for the purpose of hearing objections to a bill of light advertised to come off in the Rink here on June 18, and to take such action, if any, as might seem advisable concerning the same.

At the hour appointed for the meeting a large number of leading and influential citizens assembled in the Council Room and corridors ready for the hearing. Aldermen Bryant and Marion were promptly on hand and remained until the Mayor closed the session. Ald. Hickey was present a short time; Ald. Brown passed through the room; but at no time was a quorum present. By 8:30 it became evident that, probably in pursuance to an agreement, there would be no quorum. Still, the remonstrants remained on the ground until the Mayor adjourned the meeting, a few minutes past 9 o'clock.

The citizens were not in an amiable frame of mind. They had not only been tricked out of a hearing, but had been grossly insulted by a majority of the Aldermen, and not only the Committee of Fifty and volunteers from the best ranks of society, and likewise the office of Mayor, but the people of our city had been treated with contempt, and insulted as they never before had been in the history of the town.

The Committee of Fifty and citizens then repaired to Y. M. C. A. Hall and organized by choosing Ex-Ald. W. F. Davis, Chairman, and Edwin G. Preston, Esq., Secretary. Vent was given in brief remarks to the indignation felt at the gross insult offered them by the absenting Aldermen, and it was voted to hold a Mass Meeting at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening in Lyceum Hall, and Messrs. William F. Davis, Albert B. Dimick and Edwin G. Preston, were appointed a committee to arrange for the same.

At 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, June 14, although a powerful rainstorm prevailed, Lyceum Hall was crowded with men and women who by presence, speech and vote sought to condemn the course of the officials who had the night before declared off. The whole community. The number and high character of the assembly were inspiring, and it was a bad augury for the defiant Aldermen next December.

Ex-Ald. W. F. Davis called the meeting to order and was chosen Chairman. He opened the ball with a good sturdy speech in support of law and order, which was enthusiastically cheered. He announced that the prize fight had been declared off. This announcement, made on the authority of Mayor Allen, was greeted with round of applause. The fighters and their Woburn blowers and strikers had weakened before the determined hostile attitude of the respectable people of the city and threw up the sponge. They saw Saturday night that the people were in earnest in their opposition to the proposed and declared disgrace to city and wisely concluded that discretion was the better part of valor. They yielded, not without a growl, to the inevitable—to the voice and power of the people.

Chairman Davis then said: "The fight is off, now how shall we deal with the Aldermen?" (More than a quorum were present in the Hall.) On this phase of the case speeches were made by Rev. Doremus Scudder, who led off with remarks full of force and unction; Rev. A. M. Osmond followed with telling sentences; Rev. S. S. Marquis next in hot words of condemnation; Judge P. L. Converse with strong arguments; Lawyer John Jameson; and Mr. John T. Trull, the latter deprecating the introduction of politics into the deliberations. Broad-sides of hot shot were thrown into the Aldermen which must have set hard on their stomachs, and will probably induce them to listen to and respect the wishes and demands of their constituents during the balance of this year—after that the people will have no more use for them.

While the speaking and applauding were going on a committee consisting of Doremus Scudder, Benjamin Hickey and William E. Blodgett were appointed to draw up and present resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting, and on returning to the Hall they made the following report, which was unanimously adopted amid great cheering:

WHEREAS, Five members of the Board of Aldermen of this city, namely: Aldermen O'Donnell of Ward 1, Alderman McLean of Ward 2, Aldermen Ward and Ward 3, Alderman McCarthy of Ward 5, and Alderman Hickey of Ward 7, absented themselves from a meeting of the Board legally called for Saturday evening, June 13, to hear a petition to be presented by nearly 300 of our fellow citizens, therefore

Resolved, That we, citizens of Woburn, in mass meeting assembled, express our action of the above named Aldermen as an insult to the petitioners and to the whole body of our fellow citizens, and as a practical denial of the inalienable right of petition.

In the suppression of the fight the champions of law and order in Woburn won a great moral victory. They had to meet and contend against prize fighters and their backers, gamblers, and a majority of the city authorities, but they made a gallant stand, and came off victorious over "the world, the flesh, and the devil." The originators and promoters of the fight, after their signal defeat, published articles in the Boston papers and tried to belittle the effect of the grand movement made against them, and to prove that other causes compelled them to abandon the brutal contest, but their special pleading didn't go down with the public; sensible people understood the situation and took no stock in the excuses of the vanquished for declaring the affair off.

The respectable citizens of Woburn were never before so thoroughly wrought up, so indignant, and so determined to prevent the further disgrace of their town; they threw off their coats, rolled up their sleeves, buckled on the armor of the Lord, and won a victory over the brutes and their Aldermanic friends, sympathizers and supporters, of which they have a right to feel proud, and over which they have a right to shout and rejoice.

The Boston Journal says: "Good for Woburn! Its citizens made things too hot for the prize fighters and they did not wait until the new law went into force, either."

THE NEW FLAG.

On the 4th of July next the new American Flag, with its 45 stars, will go into use in the Army and Navy by order of Secretaries Lamont and Herbert with the approval of President Cleveland.

In the new flag the Stars are arranged in six rows of 8 and 7, alternating, and the effect is very beautiful.

We have received the June number of The Corner Stone, organ of the First Congregational church of Woburn, Rev. Doremus Scudder, pastor, Editor, and heartily approve of its literary and mechanical excellence. Mrs. Ella D. Whitford has a bright, spicy article in it; Mr. C. R. Rosenquist's historical contribution is interesting; other writers of very readable papers are: Mrs. Florence W. Crosby, Miss M. Adeline Hinkley, Mrs. L. Kate Fox, et al.

Possibly the Republicans of this city, at the next charter election, will abandon their too common practice of electing them to the City Council. Some of the worst men among us have thus been placed in authority in the past and until the Republicans can show clean hands in this respect they should be at least a little modest in their criticism on the disgraceful affair last Saturday evening.

W. Murray Crane, Massachusetts member of the Republican National Committee, made a determined and successful fight in behalf of the colored delegates to St. Louis, for which he will be remembered and rewarded next fall.

The anti-prize fight bill will go into effect tomorrow, June 20. It is quite safe to predict that there will be no more of the brutal and disgraceful affairs in this city.

An old and true friend of the JOURNAL sent in these encouraging words last Monday: "Your highly esteemed JOURNAL in these days when it so bravely dares to be counted on the side of condemnation of 'prize fights'—whether or not presented under assumed names. Mrs. Allen, wife of the Mayor, narrowly escaped an attack of pneumonia last week. The family physician, Dr. Bartlett, gave out a favorable report of her case on Monday morning, and believes she will soon be entirely well again.

On Wednesday, June 24, the Woburn High School Class '96, 47 strong, will graduate and leave the old building on Main St. for good and all. We are fondly anticipating a grand literary feast at the graduating exercises in Lyceum Hall.

Evidently Mayor Allen does not consider that there is need of any particular rush in appointing a new Lieutenant Commissioner. Things are moving along all right and smoothly in the Board, and "let well enough alone" isn't a bad motto, anyway.

The Past Officers Association will hold their annual reunion this year at the home of Mr. Fred T. Dow, Warren St., at 8 o'clock Monday, June 29. Mr. Leonard B. Buchanan, Secretary of the Association, has kindly remembered the JOURNAL, for which thanks.

Artist Taylor and Sutherland made a professional tour to Walnut Hill and thereabouts on Banker Hill Day and returned with portfolios filled with negatives and things. They are a brace of famous hunters for the picturesque and beautiful, and their studios are packed with rare specimens of the photographic art.

Mr. J. F. Willoughby, one of the solid men of Rockland, Maine, and wife are visiting his brother, Mr. Alfred Willoughby of 3 Jones Court, this city. Last week, with Mr. A. Willoughby's team, they drove up to the old homestead at Hollis, N. H., and thence to Nashua, and enjoyed the trip immensely. It is a pleasant visit for all concerned.

It must be confessed, however reluctantly, that the members of the Woburn Club of this city have improved very much in their riding. Urchins no longer stare at them as they fly over the pavements, and adults have ceased to regard them as curiosities. They really ride capably, at least some of them do, and for one we are heartily glad of it.

We know a good thing when we see it. Take the new electric poles for example: they are a good thing, a nice thing, a fact which we discovered without a guidebook. To exchange those huge, ugly poles for handsome dressed ones is one of the best things the city authorities have done this summer. All wires are to be put on to the new poles and then our streets will look as neat as a pin.

The managers of the opposition to the prize fight are praised in an untimely measure by all decent people for their splendid and successful work. Everybody honors them for the noble stand they took and for the effective blows they struck. No one receives a larger share of this well merited praise than Ex-Ald. William F. Davis, who was Chairman of all the meetings held by the opposition.

On Friday morning last the Mistress of the JOURNAL's domestic headquarters on Church Ave. was presented a splendid bouquet with the compliments of The Mayor's League, which gave their Ladies' Night very successfully the evening before. It was very pleasant to be thus remembered. Heartly thanks for the beautiful bouquet are included in this item.

The marriage of Reverend Robert Keating Smith, late Assistant to Rev. S. S. Marquis, Rector of the Episcopal church in this city, a fine young gentleman, and Miss Bertha Helena Wiles, daughter of Mr. Thomas S. Wiles of Albany, N. Y., was solemnized at St. Peter's church in that city last Wednesday, June 17. The JOURNAL congratulates its friend, Rev. Mr. Smith, and Miss Wiles on their happy union.

Margaret McDonough, who died at the home of her father, Mr. John McDonough, on Foster street, after a long and severe illness, last Monday morning, was one of the brightest and most promising young ladies in this city. She was 20 years old last Saturday. She graduated from the Woburn High School in class '93, and was its valedictorian. That fall she entered Tufts College where she at once took high rank in scholarship, and won class honors. While there Samuel W. Mendum, Esq., an alumnus of the College, and a Boston lawyer, sent us a note of publication in the JOURNAL highly complimenting Miss McDonough on her brilliant success. After two years of hard study his health compelled her to leave College and since then she has been at her home in this city, gradually failing until the end came on June 15. Miss McDonough had a wide circle of friends who, with her family, deeply mourn her loss.

Miss May Greenwood has written for publication in the JOURNAL an excellent paper on "Physical Culture" which will appear in these columns next week. The article is admirably composed, and the theme is one that all cultured people are interested in. Miss Greenwood wields a graceful as well as sensible quill.

Mr. Wat. Brown had a visitor last Wednesday who he had not met before for 55 years. It was Mr. Amos Fillebrown who a long time ago was a blacksmith for the B. & L. Railroad Co., and an intimate friend of Mr. Brown's. The two old cronies had a delightful time discussing the men and happenings of 60 years ago.

Yesterday morning Pollard & Grothe sent one of their homemade street railway sprinklers to Troy, N. Y., and will soon send one to Brooklyn, N. Y., and another to Baltimore, Md. Manufacturing these sprinklers for parties so remote and against sharp competition everywhere speaks well for the superiority of the work of Pollard & Grothe.

It was freely talked among the younger members of society that Mr. Edward Winn, son Ex-Representative John Winn of Burlington, went to Vermont early this week and was there, June 17, united in marriage with Miss Alice L. Bond, niece of Lawyer B. E. Bond of this city, and a former teacher in our public schools, but no authentic account of the wedding has reached this office. We hope the story is true however.

Two principal job printing offices in this city knew nothing about the proposal for bids for printing the City Reports until the award was made. The order for the printing was improperly silent as to where proposal would be advertised and the proprietors of the two offices were left entirely in the dark. There are ways and ways of doing business.

A man from Winchester who said he had been in the country but six weeks and had a good job on the boulevard, said his drunk was occasioned by the festivities on account of his arrival here.—Woburn Court Reporter, Monday. Well, that is curious—a chap from Ireland gets employment from the State as soon as he lands, while natives stand around with hands in their pockets appealing in vain for something to do. Wonder who the Park and Boulevard Commissioners are?

On account of the heavy rain storm that prevailed there was not a large audience at the Congregational church last Sunday evening to witness the ceremonies of Children's Day, for which elaborate preparations had been made. The church was beautifully decorated and brilliantly illuminated, and the exercises of the S. S. children were entertaining. The Processional was very fine, and the singing by the Boy Soloists from Cambridge gave great satisfaction. Indeed, all of the music was appropriate and excellent.

Winchester must be a healthy town, at least. It is exceedingly bragging about its salubrious climate, and yet it takes 5 homeopathic and 4 allopathic doctors to keep her people off the sick lists. How is that for a healthy town? About a week ago one of Winchester's "eminent divines" actually introduced the 9th. M. D. to the public! Probably he wanted to keep up with the other "eminent divines" who holds special religious services for whomsoever before they start out on their Sunday sporting. Winchester's boastful talk is tiresome—very.

The same crew of workmen, bosses, engineers, etc., who have just finished building the Woburn & Reading Street Railroad will begin tomorrow or Monday on the North Woburn Road and push the alterations and improvements for electricity to completion with all the rapidity possible. Sup. Winslow thinks they will not start in before Monday, and thus prevent interruptions to travel. In this connection we may say that Mayor Allen has secured assurances that a street railway will be in operation between here and Cummingsville within 18 months.

The first electric car came down Montvale Ave. to Main St. on the Woburn & Reading Street Railroad between 4 and 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and forthwith returned to Reading. It ran as smooth as well greased clockwork and the several dozen passengers, both ways, enjoyed the ride very much. Mr. Abijah Thompson was seen on the return trip, and Mr. Charles Smith can be seen to future generations that he was aboard the first electric car that ever sailed over Montvale Ave. Hon. E. E. Thompson cannot enjoy that felicity, for he was about 5 minutes late. And now this improved modern conveyance is to be a regular thing over Bow St., Montvale Ave., etc. We congratulate the Company on the speed with which they have done the work, and the people on the line of the W. & R. S. RR. on securing the superior advantages of a first-class street railroad right at their doors.

Harry Berry left his family of wife and three little children at home on Park on Sunday, June 7, and to date his wife has watched for his return in vain. He is an Englishman, was once an English soldier, member of the 24th Regiment of Foot, fought in the Zulu war, and was with Prince Napoleon when he fell in battle there. He was an active participant in the Riel Rebellion in the Northwest, and in other ways has shown himself to be a natural wanderer, or adventurer. His wife, a bright, interesting little woman, is of New Brunswick origin. Berry is a skilled plumber and has been in the employ of Mr. Forest Hooper several months when he so suddenly and strangely left his home for nobody knows where. Mr. Hooper speaks well of him, and so do all who know him. Mrs. Berry says he was one of the kindest of husbands and fathers and was strongly attached to his family. Why he left no one knows, and his whereabouts are equally a mystery.

Captain Hanson, Sir,

To fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Capt. Weyer, Company G, 5th Regt. M. V. M., held an election at the Armory last Monday evening to choose a Captain. Major Mossman presided.

On the first ballot LINWOOD ELLSWORTH HANSON, not a member of the Company, was elected by nearly a unanimous vote. The choice is regarded by the boys and others as one of the very best that could have been made.

A few days before the election Mr. Hanson was asked by some of the members if he would accept the command of the Company but gave no reply at the time, desiring a few days to consider the matter. At the expiration of the period he informed the parties that if it was the general desire of the Company to have him for Captain, and he could be assured a practically unanimous vote, he would accept; but he would enter into no contest for it, nor put forth any personal efforts to secure the honorable position.

That settled it, and Mr. Hanson's name went through without opposition, or none to speak of. Capt. Linwood E. Hanson is a native of Somersworth, N. H., is 31 years old, and has been a resident of Woburn since June 8, 1893. His business life has been entirely devoted to the manufacture and sale of jewelry and kindred wares, of which he has made a success. He has a prosperous jewelry store at South Berwick, Maine, and a large and flourishing one here.

Capt. Hanson was a member for two years of the Great Falls, N. H., Cadets, where the most of his military education was gained. It is believed that he will make a competent and popular commander of Co. G. And no doubt he appreciates the high honor of being chosen Captain of THE WOBURN MILITARY PHALANX, organized in 1855, one of the oldest military Companies in the State outside of Boston, and now and always the pride of Woburn.

Capt. Hanson stands high in business and social circles here, is a good citizen, honest and intelligent. He is to be congratulated on his military promotion.

A Ripe Old Age.

Mrs. Mary Harris Ober passed her 90th milestone on the pathway of life last Monday.

Mary Harris was born at Fitchburg, Mass., on June 15, 1797, married Benjamin H. Ober at Cambridgeport, in early life, and lived happily with him until his death on Oct. 27, 1894.

Mrs. Ober lives with her only child, Miss Julia M. W. Ober, in their pleasant home on Canal St., and at length infirm, retains her mental vigor wonderfully for a person who lacks but one year of being a century old.

On account of Mrs. Ober's physical inability to entertain company no birthday celebration was held on Monday, although her many friends would have been glad to take note of the anniversary. She is probably the oldest person in Woburn.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this: "In September, 1894, I made a mistake and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards, two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My Whitcher-Nickerson.

At the home of the groom, No. 3 Cleveland Avenue, this city, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, June 17, 1896, Mr. ARTHUR W. WHITCHER and Miss EMMIE M. NICKERSON, also of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. A. M. Osmond, Pastor of the Woburn Methodist Episcopal church, in the presence of the families of the bride and groom.

The bridal party took a train at Central Square for Boston about 4 o'clock the same afternoon, and thence, at 6 o'clock p. m., with Gaze's European Excursion Party, proceeded to New York, and will sail from there on Saturday morning for a two-months' tour of Europe. The news of the wedding, which spread rapidly on Thursday morning, was an immense surprise to the social circles of this city in which Mr. Whitcher and Miss Nickerson were prominent members, and especially among the former's business associates, one of whom said the affair was highly Whitcherese. The groom is a prominent draught in this city and has a host of business and personal friends who congratulate him warmly on the important step he took last Wednesday, and particularly on having secured for a life partner one of the most beautiful and popular of Woburn's young ladies. The high regard in which both are held in the city, and a host of good friends to wish them "a long life and a merry one."

Mr. and Mrs. Whitcher will "do" the capitals of several European countries, take in the classic Rhine with all its wealth of beauties and charms, visit art galleries, cathedrals, etc.—indeed, they propose to see everything worth seeing in the gayest and grandest of European cities. On July 4 they will be in Rome; on July 12, at Grand Hotel Florence, Florence, Italy; Paris will claim several days of their attention; and London will be their home for awhile. They expect to return to Woburn about August 10.

The popularity of the contracting parties, and the widespread friendships which they enjoy among the best classes of society, render their marriage an event of more than ordinary interest in this city, and having been consummated so quietly and unexpectedly, it gave rise to much surprised conversation after their departure for the other side of the Atlantic.

The JOURNAL joins the host in extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Whitcher and felicitates them on their happy union.

Malaria in Horn Pond Water?

This seems to be the opinion of some of the doctors, but be that as it may, we are suffering from the disease to a great extent in our city, and many are suffering from it, which is entirely unnecessary. Dr. Quinby writes that malaria can be prevented and cured it very quickly. One Tablet taken morning and night will surely cure it, and taken according to the directions one box will cure the most severe case.

It is something ENTIRELY NEW. They are the outcome of the experience of the late Dr. Charles Gordon, Surgeon in the English Army, who was stationed in India. It is sure in action; safe and pleasant to take; far superior to large doses of Quinine which do not cure but only suppress the disease, only to return at a later period.

Price 20 cents a box. For sale by ARTHUR WHITCHER and GORDON PARKER and by Druggists. Woburn, Mass. G. G. Goodwin & Co., Boston, Wholesale Agents.—4.

Presentation.

Friends to the number of sixty from the Baptist Church, gathered at the home of Mrs. C. W. Gilbert, Montvale Ave., Thursday evening, June 17, to present a watch to Rev. and Mrs. Barrows. They were ushered into the parlor, where, on behalf of those assembled, Mr. A. E. Blodgett presented Mr. Barrows with a handsome Hambley bicycle greatly to his surprise. Ice cream and cake were served on the lawn and a delightful social evening was spent.

The Report.

The Treasurer, Mr. E. E. Thompson, informs us that the net proceeds of the late Electrical Carnival, after paying all bills approved by the Executive Committee, amounts to $1000.64. There are bills still due the Committee for advertising and other expenses which, together with our change on hand, will amount to about fifty dollars more.
